MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO 564.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 22, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 564, entitled, "An Act authorizing the Commissioner of Labor and Industry to appoint additional officers and employes in the Department of Labor and Industry fixing their duties and salaries and increasing the salaries of the Chief Medical Inspector Chief of the Bureau of Statistics and Information and the chief clerk."

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 161.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 23, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill Nò. 161, entitled, "An Act relating to the acquisitions and holding of property real and personal by any literary scientific educational religious charitable beneolent or beneficial society church congregation association or body whether incorporated or unincorporated or any trustee or trustees of any trust for charitable or benevolent objects or purposes 'fixing the amount of such property which may thus be acquired and held' and providing for the increase of such amount and a method of procedure for obtaining the right to such increase."

This bill increases the holding of real and personal property by certain organizations both incorporated and unincorporated from an annual income of thirty thousand dollars to three hundred thousand dollars. The propriety of such a large increase in the possible tax exempted properties of the Commonwealth is questionable. It is not clear to what extent unincorporated bodies having the most attenuated interests in common could secure such a commanding exemption from the Commonwealth, nor does it seem to me wise that any trustee residing in any county of this Commonwealth removed from the center of activities by such a body could apply to the court for a charter of incorporation. The bill is not drawn in such a form as to make clear and definite the purposes for which it is intended.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 422.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 22, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 422 entitled "An Act to fix the salary of the first assistant clerk of the orphans court in counties having a population of not less than eight hundred thousand and not more than one million five hundred thousand."

This Bill proposes an increase in the salary of the first assistant clerk of the Orphan's Court in counties of a certain defined population. This county classification is of doubtful constitutionality and, while it is claimed the increase is paid from fees, it is paid finally by the taxpayers. The only question, aside from the validity of the bill, is the compensation properly attached to the service rendered. It does not seem to me prudent at this time to increase salaries where no real hardship follows.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 429.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 22, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 429, entitled, "An Act to give protection to and regulate the catching or taking or having possession of within this Commonwealth of bullfrogs and tadpoles and providing and imposing a penalty for violation of its provisions and repealing all acts inconsistent herewith."

This bill proposes to regulate the catching of bullfrogs and tadpoles. The title does not include terrapin and yet section eight repeals the law relating to the catching of terrapin. Moreover there is the further question as to whether a bill relating in title to bullfrogs and tadpoles should include an additional subject not in the title. The bill is of such constitutional uncertainty that it seems wise not to approve it.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I was responsible for this bill. It seems that the Attorney-General's Department and the Executive Chamber find some fault with the title or the body of the bill. I cannot understand why they did not before vetoing the bill give the sponsor of the bill some notice and give him a chance to recall it for the purpose of amendment. However, in view of the fact that it has been vetoed, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 528.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 22, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 523, entitled, "An Act to regulate the assessment on seated lands where township lines divide a tract of land and to determine the residence of owners and occupants of land when the dividing line between any two townships passes through the mansion house and prescribing the duties of assessors in such cases."

This bill relates to the assessment of seated lands where township lines divide the tract.

The laws upon this subject are now developed by the several acts of Assembly seems to be uniform and based upon a public policy which the Department in interest declares to be as pertinent generally today as when first enunciated. This bill would cause much confusion and secure but little benefit. Morover, the title is defective, in that it does not give sufficient notice of the real purpose of the bill. The purpose of the bill would indicate an exception to the law as it is, said exception to be in fafor of first class townships as against second class townships.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. GROFT. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which was read as follows:

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 172.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 22, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 172 entitled "An Act amending the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred sixty-two entitled 'An Act to authorize the erection of a poor house by the borough of Dunmore borough of Scranton and township of Providence in the county of Luzerne' as amended by an act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine entitled 'A supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to authorize the erection of a poor house by the borough of Dunmore borough of Scranton and township of Providence in the county of Luzerne' approved April ninth eighteen hundred and sixty-two by defining the Scranton poor district providing for the election of the poor board therein defining the powers and duties of such board and abolishing the present office of poor directors."

This bill changes the management of the Scranton Poor House from an appointive to an elective Board. The Bill is so manifestly in violation of the Constitution in redefective title and in other counts that only litigation over a matter so vital to the people of Scranton would ensue. (See Article III. Section 3, 6, and 8.)

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECESS.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes.

Mr. CROFT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor, Frank B. McClain) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented for concurrence bills of the House of Representatives as follows:

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee that Thou art infinite in Thy goodness and everlasting in Thy kindness, a goodness and a kindness that have followed us all the days of our lives. We thank Thee for the universal providence that is over all the things that Thou hast made. We thank Thee for the particular providence that reaches to every object in creation, even to the spider that weaves its web and also to the planet that revolves in space. We thank Thee for the special providence that is over us as families; that is over us as individuals, that is over us as representatives of a great State. Oh, God, may we be grateful for all of the contributions that Thou art making for our happiness in this life, and may we ever be thankful, we ask for Christ's sake. Amen.

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL NO. 611.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 21, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 611 entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled 'An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsisten therewith.'"

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 246.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 22, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 246, entitled "An Act requiring each city of the second class to establish a municipal pension fund for employes of said city and regulating the payment of such pensions."

This bill requires cities of the second class to establish a municipal pension fund. The bill entered the legislature as a bill applying to cities of the first class and emerged as applying to cities of the second class. Section 1 of Article III of the Constitution expressly prohibits this. It is a grave question whether the Commonwealth should mandate any municipal unit as to the method of expending its own money. The councils of a city, representing the taxpayers are best qualified to pass upon such matters.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto together with the bill be laid on the table.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 515.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 22, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 515, entitled "An Act requiring all public printing and the processeses used in doing such printing to be done within the territorial limits of this Commonwealth."

This bill requires that all public printing and all processes incident thereto be done within the territorial limits of this Commonwealth.

There is no sufficient reason for such territorial limits. Many other public services might with equal propriety be so limited. Moreover it is in contravention of Section 12 of Article III of the Constitution, and in violation of the Act of July 26, 1897 (P. L. 418) as defined by the court in Commonwealth vs. Casey, 231 Pa. 170.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto together with the bill be laid upon the table.

Mr. WILLARD. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. which read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 900.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 22, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 900, entitled "An Act regulating salaries of clerks in office of recorder of deeds in any county having a population of one million four hundred thousand inhabitants and over."

This bill regulates the salaries of clerks in the office of the Recorder of Deeds in certain counties.

This bill increases salaries and gives all clerks the same salary. The Act of May 21, 1879 (P. L. 72, Sec. 2), gives councils in cities of first class full power to fix salaries paid out of city treasury. Since there is no county treasury in counties falling under the scope of this bill councils clearly have the right to act; and they, better than the Commonwealth, can determine what disposition should be made of the monies of taxpayers.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. LAFFERTY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto together with the bill be laid on the table.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 70.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 23, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 70 entitled "An Act to amend the second section of an act of Assembly entitled 'An Act authorizing the Bureau of Health in cities of the first class to make and promulgate rules and regulations for the sanitary keeping of stables and other places in such cities where horses mules cows sheep goats or swine are kept and for the collecting storing and transporting of manure from such animals providing that no manure shall be collected or stored in any stable manure-pit or other place without a permit or transported in violation of said rules and regulations making a violation of the act or of said rules and regulations a misdeameanor prescribing penalties therefor and repealing inconsistent acts' approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen so as to permit the deposit of manure on wharves and piers for shipment beyond the limits of such cities."

This Bill is an amendment to the rules regulating the collecting, storing, and transportating of manure in cities of the first class. This Bill exempts from the present law of regulation manure on a wharf or pier for shipment beyond the limits of such city. If manure is a menace to health, as it is by law, and its disposal regulated by the Bureau of Health it is not clear to me how manure on a pier or wharf should be placed by law beyond health regulations . A menace to health is quite as much a menace on a wharf as it is in the manure pit. The Bureau of Health should have city wide jurisdiction.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. CURRY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto together with the bill be laid on the table.

Mr. GRANSBACH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 253.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 23, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 253 entitled "An Act to amend section four of article two of an act approved the eighth day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one entitled 'An Act amending article two of an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith' approved the second day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one', increasing the per diem pay of the members of the Mine Inspectors' Examining Boards and providing for their expenses."

This Bill provides that the mine examiners in the anthracite field shall have their per diem compensation doubled. There is no evidence that the work has not been satisfactory under the existing act with its compensation provisions. To double the compensation without a sufficient reason seems to me unwise.

For these reasons the Bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move that this veto, together with the bill, be laid upon the table.

Mr. McARDLE Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 687.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 23, 1915.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval House Bill No. 687, entitled "An Act to amend an act approved the ninth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one entitled 'An Act authorizing companies incorporated under the laws of any other state of the United States for the manufacture of any form of iron steel or glass to erect and maintain buildings and manufacturing establishments and to take have and hold real estate necessary and proper for manufacturing purposes' as amended by extending the same to companies incorporated for the purpose of the manufacture and sale of explosives or of fire bricks and refractories or of cheese butter or other dairy or creamery products."

This bill extends the Act of June 9, 1881, to permit addititonal kinds of foreign corporations to hold real estate in Pennsylvania. It diminishes the revenue derived from "holding" corporations and places these upon the same footing as our own corporations. In effect it taxes a corporation for its existence under our laws and exempts it when it is chartered beyond our State. I do not deem this fair to our own industries.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

(Signed) MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this veto, together with the bill, be laid upon the table.

Mr. BOVEE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED.

By Mr. WOOD. House Bill No. 1631.

An Act to repeal an act approved the fourth day of April, one thousand eight hundred seventy-two, entitled "An Act relating to the collection of taxes in the County of Indiana."

Referred to the Committee on Elections.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE AUDITOR GENERAL.

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication from Hon. A. W. Powell, Auditor General, which was read as follows and ordered spread upon the Journal of the House:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of the Auditor General, Harrisburg, April 19th, 1915.

To the Honorable, the Members of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—In behalf of House Bill No. 1523, providing for the employment of a chief bookkeeper and three assistants and one additional traveling auditor in this department, I respectfully submit the following:

Changes in accounting methods, made for efficiency's sake, have necessitated reorganization of the bookkeeping force since approval of the Act of 1913 fixing number and designating work of clerks. Antiquated methods have been dropped, and the accounting has been made equal to that of any well-managed private corporation handling upwards of $35,000,000 a year. Careful comparative analyses of expenditures have been provided an analytical record of tax settlements has been established; a general ledger has been opened; and in other ways the Department has bettered its service.

In order to do this, the Department has had to employ additional clerks and pay them from its own contingent fund; and, if bettered methods of work in general are to be continued and developed as planned, there must be a slight enlargement of the present force as authorized by the Act of 1913. This enlargement—small in view of its benefits—should be provided by statute. Payment of regularly employed clerks from contingent funds is bad practice; and, because of altered duties, the Act of 1913 no longer correctly describes the work of some of the bookkeeping employes.

This department is administered with exceptional economy. In 1913 it assessed the taxes, made collections, and audited disbursements at a cost of only 39-100ths of a cent on each dollar of the revenues. It costs the adjoining State of New York over six mills; and in Michigan, which has taxing and auditing machinery copied from ours, the cost was seven mills.

In 1870, which was a time of rigid economy in State government, and when the work of this Department was crudely done, the cost was 35-100ths of a cent. Then, there were no traveling auditotrs to visit institutions receiving State money; no record of tax settlements was kept and no analyses of settlements was made; there was no general ledger in which totals representing the State's fiscal affairs were shown there was no card system for the recording of corporation reports; there was no minute analyses of expenditures, no adequate collecting of data for comparisons. Auditing was mostly by rule of thumb. On the basis of service, the Department is now actually conducted at a lower cost, per dollar of revenues, than in 1870.

The Department regards this bill as an economy measure; for its bettered methods, providing comparative analyses, will detect oversights, waste and extravagances and will save the State many times the amount of the slight additional cost the bill covers. Every large private corporation knows that its best investments are sums spent for accounting purposes; and the Commonwealth is a large corporation which never, until now, has had such efficient accounting.

For these reasons the enactment of House Bill No. 1523 is respectfully asked.

(Signed) A. W. POWELL,
Auditor General.

Mr. NISSLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED.

By Mr. NISSLEY. House Bill No. 1632.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1346, as follows:

An Act defining the term "legal name" and making it unlawful to use a name different than the legal name with intent to defraud

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in Geneal Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the term "legal name" as used in this act means the surname the christen or given name or a name received through legal proceedings marriage adoption or the ceremony of a religious congregation or society or a name assumed and used by a person without an intent to defraud

Section 2 No person shall use a name different than the legal name of such person with an intent to defraud

Section 3 Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be sentenced for each offense to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding six months or both

Section 4 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ. Mr. Speaker, Will the sponsor of this bill kindly explain the purpose of it?

Mr. HUBLER. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is simply to aid and facilitate tax collectors in the collection of taxes, namely: where a person of foreign descent has several names, it is confusing to the tax collector and almost impossible for him to collect the duplicate. This would apply more particularly in this instance than in any other, but it would be of value in other instances, namely: where a person gives several names with the intention to defraud a creditor. That is the main purpose of the bill.

NAYS—1.

Baker,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1299, as follows:

An Act regulating the business of loaning money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities fixing the rates of interest and charges therefor requiring the licensing of lenders and prescribing penalties for the violation of this act

Whereas There is at present conducted in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania an extensive business in the making of small loans of three hundred dollars and less to persons in need of funds to meet immediate necessities and

Whereas The conduct of such business has become a cause of general complaint and much protest by reason of the fact that those engaged therein have extorted from the borrowers in interest and charges amounts running in many instances to one hundred per centum and even two or three hundred per centum or more and borrowers are often compelled to repay many times over the amount borrowed with legal interest thereon frequently through ignorance and intimidation and there is no regulation or provision of law for the protection of such borrowers or for the punishment of such money lenders and

Whereas It is recognized that such business however unfortunate does and will exist and there is therefore a real need for the establishment of such provision as will enable its continuance under proper regulation and supervision of law and

Whereas It appears that in the conduct of such business greater risk is incurred than is ordinarily incident to lending money by banks pawnbrokers and other money lenders where marketable security is given and greater labor and expense is required in examining into the character and circumstances of the borrower and in the collection of the money loaned therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That on and after passage of this act it shall be lawful for any person persons partnership association or corporation within this Commonwealth who shall comply with the requirements of this act to loan money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities and charge and collect for the loan thereof interest and fees as hereinafter provided under the following conditions

(a) Any person or persons firm corporation or association applying for the same under oath and in the form prescribed by the Banking Commissioner and paying the sum of fifty ($50) dollars may in the discretion of the Banking Commissioner except as hereinafter provided obtain a license for carrying on the said business The said license shall be issued by the Banking Commissioner and shall expire the first day of June next following the date of its issuance but no abatement of said charge shall be made if licenses are issued for less than one year Every such license shall be renewed annually on the first day of June in each year No license shall be granted to any corporation unless and until such corporation shall in writing and in due form to be first approved by and filed by the Banking Commissioner appoint an agent resident in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania upon whom all judicial and other process or legal notice directed to such corporation may be served and in the case of the death removal from the Commonwealth or any legal disability or disqualification of any such agent service of such process or notice may be made upon the Banking Commissioner The said commissioner shall have the power to reject any application for license if he is satisfied that the character and general fitness of the applicant or applicants is not such as to command the confidence of the community and to warrant the conclusion that the business will be honestly transacted in accordance with the intent and purpose of this act The said commissioner may revoke any license if the licensee shall violate any of the provisions of this act Whenever such license is revoked said commissioner shall not issue another to said licensee until the expiration of at least one year from the date of revocation of such license and not at all if such licensee shall have been convicted of a violation of this act under the provisions of section six (6) thereof In addition to said license fee said licensee shall pay for the examination by said Banking Commissioner as hereinafter provided Every such applicant shall execute and file a bond to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the penal sum of five thousand ($5,000) dollars with the Banking Commissioner to be approved by him for the faithful observance of all laws relating to such business Said bond shall be executed by a surety company authorized by the laws of Pennsylvania to transact business within the Commonwealth and such bond shall be renewed and refiled annually not later than the first day of June in each year

(b) The license shall state fully the name or names of the persons or corporation and of every member of the firm or association authorized to do business thereunder and the location of the office or place of business in which the business is to be conducted and in the case of a corporation shall also state the date and place of its incorporation the names of its directors for the period for which the license is issued and the name and address of the agent as provided in section one (1) of this act Such license shall be kept posted in a conspicuous place in the office where the business is transacted No person persons firm corporation or association so licensed shall transact or solicit business under any other name or at any other office or place of business than that named in the license Not more than one office or place of business shall be maintained under the same license and no loans or advancements shall be made at any other place than that designated in the license But in case of a removal the Banking Commissioner may on application indorse thereon a transfer to the new place of business with the date of transfer and from the time of such endorsement the new place so designated shall be deemed the place designated in the license

(c) The Banking Commissioner shall either personally or by such person or persons as he may appoint for the purpose at least once a year and oftener if he deems it advisable investigate the business and affairs of every such licensee and for that purpose shall have free access to the vaults books and papers thereof and other sources of information with regard to the business of such licensee and shall ascertain the condition of the business and whether it has been transacted in accordance with law Said commissioner and every examiner appointed by him shall have authority to examine under oath or affirmation any person whose testimony relative to the business of any such license may be required on any such examination The cost of every such examination shall be paid by the licensee so examined and said commissioner may maintain an action for the recovery of such costs in any court of competent jurisdiction

Section 2 Any person persons co-partnership association or corporation who shall obtain a license in accordance with the provisions of section one of this act shall be entitled to loan money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less either with or without security to individuals pressed by lack of funds to meet immediate necessities at his their or its place of business for which said license is issued and to charge the borrowers thereof for its use or loan interest as follows upon loans not exceeding one hundred ($100) dollars in amount not more than (3) per centum per month upon loans exceeding one hundred ($100) dollars in amount and not exceeding three hundred ($300) dollars not more than two (2) per centum per month and in addition in any case in which the loan is made for a period of not less than six (6) months on sums not exceeding fifty ($50) dollars in amount an examination fee of not more than one ($1) dollar on sums exceeding fifty ($50) dollars an examination fee of not more than two ($2) dollars may be charged for examining the security offered or the credit and responsibility of the borrower No charge of any kind in addition to interest shall be made on a loan of less than fifteen ($15) dollars No charge in addition to the said interest and examination fee shall be exacted charged or collected

It shall not be lawful for said lender to divide or split up applications for loans under any pretext whatsoever so as to require or exact any other or greater charges than prescribed herein or to make any charges for renewals or extensions or for any transfers or changes of any loan or loans within six months of the date of the original loan Said licensee shall be entitled to charge for each renewal extension or transfer of any loan made after the expiration of six months from date of said loan a new examination fee as hereinbefore specified providing said renewal extension or transfer shall be for a period of not less than six months from date of making said renewal extension or transfer Interest shall not be payable in advance and shall be chargeable only upon unpaid balances The examination fee herein provided may be payable at the time of the making of the loan A licensee shall not be entitled to any examination fee or any charge whatsoever unless a loan is actually made If interest or charges in excess of those hereinbefore prescribed shall be received by any licensee the said licensee shall thereupon lose all his right to collect or receive the interest and charges allowed under this act and shall be entitled to recover from the borrower only the amount actually loaned together with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum upon unpaid balances less any and all amounts already paid by the borrower on account of said loan either as principal or interest Any person borrowing money from any licensee under this act who shall be charged and pay any charges or interest in excess of those prescribed and allowed by the provisions of this act shall be entitled to recover back from the lender by action at law begun at any time within two years from the date of the last payment any and all sums of money so charged and paid in excess of the amount of the original loan together with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum upon unpaid balances up to the date of final payment of said loan and in addition fifty ($50) dollars as a penalty to be paid to the borrower

Section 3 A licensee making any loan under the terms of this act shall at the time of making such loans give to the borrower a receipt or card upon which shall be stated the date and amount actually loaned the amount of examination fee the amount and date of each payment thereon and the rate of interest charged On the back thereof or immediately attached thereto shall be printed in legible type in English a copy of section two (2) of this act

Section 4 Wherever payment is made on account of a loan to which the provisions of this act shall apply the person receiving such payment shall when payment is made give to the person paying a receipt setting forth the amount then paid the total amount previously paid and the amount remaining due identifying the instrument accompanying the loan to which the payment is to be applied

Section 5 A licensee under the provisions of this act shall not ask for accept or receive from any borrower or intending borrower any power of attorney or written instrument authorizing or purporting to authorize any person or persons either individually or acting as officer or agent for any person persons co-partnership association or corporation either within or outside of this Commonwealth to sign make or execute any note instrument or written promise to pay any sum or sums of money whatsoever Any note instrument or written promise to pay any sum of money made or executed by virtue or authority of any such power of attorney or written authorization shall be null and void and proof that the same was made in said manner shall be sufficient to prevent recovery being had upon the same in any court of this Commonwealth

Section 6 Every person persons co-partnership association or corporation or any partner director officer agent or member thereof who shall violate any provision of this act or shall direct or consent to such violation or who shall lend money in sums of three hundred ($300) dollars or less and charge or receive for the loan or use thereof intrest in excess of six per centum per annum without first having complied with the provisions of section one of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than five hundred ($500) dollars for the first offense and for each subsequent offense a like fine and to suffer imprisonment not to exceed six months or both in the discretion of the court

Section 7 This act shall not affect any existing laws special or general authorizing a charge for the loan of money in excess of interest at the legal rate and provided that this act shall not apply to any person persons partnership association or corporation operating under the laws relating to banks trust companies building associations or pawn brokers

Section 8 All acts or parts of acts insofar as they are inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the sponsor of this bill explain it so that we may understand it.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the House, I will say that this is a bill that has been drafted at the solicitation of the Captain of Detectives of Philadelphia to eliminate, if possible, the loan sharks in that city. It is drafted to overcome, if possible, the Supreme Court decision in relation to charges. It has the endorsement of not only the Detective Bureau of Philadelphia but all the remedial loan companies that are interested in the loaning of money. It is an absolute protection to the poor man and it is to correct defects in the act of last session.

On the qestion, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—4.

Baker,
Campbell, J. O.,

Wilson, H. I.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1507, as follows:

An Act for the protection of sheep and the incidental destruction of certain dogs

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any dog that enters at large any field where there are sheep shall constitute a private nuisance and the owner of such sheep or his agent or servant may kill such dog while it is in the field without liability or responsibility of any nature for such killing

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say that this bill is not intended to in any way attack or antagonize any dog, but as far as possible to give protection to an important industry in the raising of sheep. I have a letter here from a gentleman who is very much interested in it, in which he says there will be at least twenty-five thousand sheep raised in our county alone if proper protection can be secured from dogs that are running at random who are responsible to no one and have no owners. This does not in any way interfere with sportsmen's dogs. I have a telegram here from the President of the Sportsmen's Association of our county in which he says "I shall be very much interested to hear that your sheep protection bill passes to-night." I hope that every gentlemen will vote for it as a matter of protection for an important industry in Pennsylvania.

Mr. DELL. Mr. Speaker, I objected to this bill in its original form. However, the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Habgood, has now amended the bill so that I think it is fair. It only permits the slaying of the dog now when he is found running at large in a filed in which there happen to be sheep. So I feel that we can vote safely on this bill and protect our dogs and the sheep as well.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 1077, Senate Bill No. 404, on page 18 of to-day's calendar, Bills on Final Passage Postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1077 (Senate Bill No. 404), entitled:

An Act regulating the practice of veterinary medicine including veterinary surgery and veterinary dentistry or any branch thereof and establishing as incidental thereto a State Board of Veterinary Meidcal Examiners and defining its powers and duties

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HABGOOD. Mr. Speaker, this bill was misunderstood when it came before the House previously. It does not create any appropriation. It is simply intended for the further and proper standardizing the qualifications of veternarians. It has the hearty endorsement of the State Veternarian Board, and I believe that the House understanding it as it does when we reconsidered it and is now on final passage will support it. I ask you to vote aye on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—2.

Kuhn,
Maurer,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

BILL PLACED ON CALENDAR.

Mr. NEVILLE. Mr Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 393, File Folio 4639, entitled:

An act relating to the powers duties and fees of coroners and their officers or assistants be placed upon the calendar.

Mr. LANDIS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. This bill was on the Postponed Calendar and dropped within the five-day limit.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1106 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, on account of the absence of representative Baldwin of Delaware, at whose request House Bill No. 1106 was made a special order of business for 10 o'clock P. M. on to-day's calendar I move that it be made a special order of business for Monday evening, May 3d at 10 o'clock.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of 9.30 having arrived the House will take up the Special Order on House Bill No. 1038.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1038, entitled:

An Act to provide for the modification of the plans of the new Western Penitentiary in Centre county so as to provide larger or additional buildings in order to accommodate the inmates of the Eastern Penitentiary as well as of the Western Penitentiary for the consolidation of said institutions into one to be known as the State Penitentiary of Pennsylvania

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides for a modification of the plans of the new Western Penitentiary so as to finally and ultimately accommodate the inmates of both institutions. There are at present in the Western Penitentiary a few less than 1,000 inmates. There are at the present or there were on May 31st, 1914 in the Eastern Penitentiary 1,401 inmates. If the two institutions had been consolidated at that time the total number of inmates would have been 2,214. I am sure that to those of us who have been privileged to visit the present site of the new Western Penitentiary not a single word of argument is necessary to emphasize the value of this legislation. This site is located almost in the exact geographical center of the State, some six miles north east of Bellefonte, Pa. The State has already acquired ownership of more than 5,000 acres of land. More than three thousand acres of this land is splendid agricultural land. The site now owned by the State comprises what was before the State acquired it some thirty-two farms, many of which were in a high state of cultivation, many of which required all of the necessary buildings to carry on farming in a progressive manner. If there were no other argument made than this, that up to the present time with only 130 prisoners, temporarily quartered therein buildings that have been erected without any cost, they were simply some of the farm buildings erected there, more than $24,000.00 was produced in revenue from the crops grown. It is estimated by the management that when these 3,000 acres are properly farmed that the revenue from that land alone will produce a sufficient source of revenue to render the combined institution more than self sustaining. At present both of these institutions are costing this Commonwealth something in excess of three hundred thousand dollars—the combined cost is about seven hundred thousand dollars per year. If there were no other argument advanced than from the standpoint of economy alone, it seems to me, that this legislation should appeal to every good business man in this House. Now, gentlemen, if this end is to be ultimately reached, there is not a man here who will dispute that as a good business proposition, this is the time to let the management of the Western Penitentiary know what they are expected to provide for. If they shall be expected to provide for an institution that will ultimately take care of all the inmates of all the institutions of the Commonwealth, now is the time for them to know it, so that their plans can be so made. They are still laying the foundations—can be so changed and so altered that without the necessity of tearing down they can continue to build it along such lines that will ultimately take care of the inmates of both institutions.

There is no spot in this Commonwealth upon which an institution of the size that will be necessary to accommodate the inmates of both institutions can be built so cheaply. There is underlying this land an inexhaustable supply of lime-stone. Already at the State's expense there is operated there a splendid quarry and a splendid crushing plant with the assistance of the men that are being used, about one hundred and thirty of them so far. They are delivering crushed stone into the very forms used in mixing the concrete without the use of human hands except in the quarry, at a cost of less than one-third of what it would cost to bring it from the nearest quarry. And there is an inexhaustable supply of brown sandstone rock found there which they are running through the crushing plant and producing a splendid sand of very great tensile strength at a cost of less than one third of what it would cost to bring it from the nearest shipping point.

There is no spot in the State where an institution of this kind can be reared under a more splendid environment. Right on the slope of Nittany mountain, right in the geographical center of this State.

From the other standpoint it is scarcely necessary to enter into an argument for the members of this House. I referred on Tuesday of last week to the reasons that were cited by the Warden of the Wetsern Penitentiary at the time when the House of Representatives and the Senate of the Session of 1911 passed the Wetsern Penitentiary Bill. Those of us who were here then and heard the argument that was produced at that time need no further argument to prove to us that this is a move in the right direction. I do not believe that there is a man in this House who doubts it. I say to you gentleman of the House that the day has long since past by when it is necessary to keep the unfortunate men that you call convicts under ball and chain. That is not progress. That is not the way we do things in this twentieth century. That is a thing of the past. I shall never forget a few months ago when I was up upon this very spot and I saw these men out on the slopes of Nittany mountain trimming down these trees with the blush of health upon their faces, learning to do their daily task and learning to do some things well. Give these men a chance. Right there by the border of this property flows Spring Creek, a stream of water which, at its lowest stage, will produce four hundred horsepower of power. You cannot only use these men to produce and develop the agricultural wealth of these three thousand acres of land, but you can erect there, and you will have the power to operate, numerous manufacturies; and you will have an inexhaustable supply of limestone and an inexhaustable supply of sand which can be used to manufacture material for your State roads ;and you will not only be building State roads but you will be building character and you will be building men and you will be sending these poor unfortunate out in the world with confidence in themselves ,with a feeling that they will be able to do something and be once more men.

Now in the name of progress, in the name of these men I ask you to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it is not often that I am found on the opposite side to my friend Hess. It was with considerable attention that I listened to the glowing terms in which he described this new home for prisoners. He pictured to you the beautiful surroundings, the glowing cheeks that would be brought to the men incarcerated and employed there and that this would establish a center that could be used for country-week purposes.

Now, I want to say to you that there is not a man, a member of this Assembly, who has more humanity and more sympathy for the unfortunate than I have. My friend has told you that the institution now in the western part of the State, located as ti is, has contributed twenty-two thousand dollars by the industry of the prisoners, toward the maintenance of that institution. If that be so, gentlemen of the House, why is it that the Western Penitentiary, with only about one thousand prisoners in opposition to sixteen hundred and twenty-two that are now in the Eastern Penitentiary, is asking for an appropriation to maintain that institution of one hundred thousand dollars more than the Eastern Penitentiary.

My friend has called your attention to the fact that he is actuated by humanitarian desires in this bill but he don't tell you that to-day in the Eastern Penitentiary that there are sixteen hundred and twenty-two inmates in that institution under the skillful management of the greatest humanitarian who ever presided over a penal institution. There are men to-day becoming skilled mechanics, skilled in brick-laying, in electrical appliances, in plumbing and in many other pursuits that make them valuable citizens when they get out again; and I could point to hundreds of men, who unfortunately find themselves in the Eastern Penitentiary who, under the humanitarian treatment received there, are to-day, after serving their term, useful members of the community. There is absolutely no necessity to go to Center county to have humane treatment given to the inmates of the combined Eastern and Wesern Penitentiaries. We have now in the Eastern Penitentiary—my friend did not go far enough—he did not refer to the unfortunate members of the families of the men who are incarcerated there. He would have you impose the obligation upon the mother, the sister, the daughter, the wife or the son of these men to go all the way to Center county to see one of their unfortunate members incarcerated there. He did not tell you that there would be, by the combination of these two penitentiaries, an additional expense to the State of Pennsylvania. All prisoners within fifty miles incarcerated in an institution, when they are discharged are paid five dollars bounty by the State. Send all the sixteen hundred and twenty-two men that are now in the Eastern Penitentiary to the Western Penitentiary under the consolidation and they would have to pay each and every man on their discharge ten dollars. You would put the additional expense on the eastern counties; and from the figures that I have given you, you will see that a majority of those in the Eastern Penitentiary come from Philadelphia and surrounding counties. You would put the expense on our counties of sending the men to Center county and you would put an additional expense on the entire State when they would be liberated. He tells you that the operations of this splendid institution referred to—and I have no reflection to cast upon the management of the Western Penitentiary—he would tell you that it would be six, eight or probably ten years before it would be in operation. Now, gentlemen of the House, we know that the appropriations are referred to as not sufficient to meet the demands of the State. We are told that the charities must suffer. We are told that much money is needed for improvements to the roads; and if it can wait ten years it surely can go longer until there is more of a demand generally throughout the State for this combination with the expense attached, and let us have this surplus thrown into the Treasury Department to be used for charitable purposes and the improvement of our roads; and I would therefore ask you members of this House to vote this bill down.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, there are two reasons why we ask you to support this bill to-night. In the first place I want to say that my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, has said that if these penitentiaries were combined in Center county it would add an additional expense of bringing the prisoners from Philadelphia to Center county. Now, we have to pay that additional expense to take our prisoners from Clearfield and other interior counties to Philadelphia and so to reverse that thing for four or five years would not hurt. The two reasons why we ask you to support this bill are, first, from the health standpoint and, second, from the economical standpoint. We, as members of this legislature, are trying to economize; we are trying to make the money we have got as far as we can without adding additional taxation on the people. Here is one of the places you can economize. Here is one of the places where every man taken to the penitentiary can help to support himself. We have in Center county thousands of acres of land belonging to the State that can be utilized. These people taken from these penitentiaries can raise their own potatoes and cabbage and other produce. At the same time I think there are from two to three hundred people from the Eastern Penitentiary helping to build this penitentiary. I have been told by the warden from Philadelphia that when these people come out of the penitentiary, from the Eastern Penitentiary, they are not allowed to work more than an hour or two at a time. They have been in there so long that they are weak, their muscles have not been developed and are soft and it is impossible for them to work for a long time. I think I have been told there are twenty each year taken from the penitentiary to the asylum. This is because of the too close confinement. If you would remove these men from Philadelphia and from the Western Penitentiary and let these men develop themselves, do you not think it would be better? We are now past the time where we are trying to keep men in steel cages. If we must punish these people let us take them out in the mountains of Center county where there is lots of land and do our part towards making them self-supporting. I think if you study this carefully you will see that this is a proper bill to support.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I take it that further argument on the merits of this bill is perhaps unnecessary. I believe that everything that can be said in favor of consolidation has been so ably said by my friend from Lancaster that for me to repeat would be purely wasting your time. But I want to appeal to you gentlemen, especially from the country counties, I want to appeal particularly to every man who represents a county outside of Philadelphia, and I appeal to you gentlemen in the name of those who are suffering under the torture of prison life and I ask you men as honorable and conscientious citizens to vote for this bill because of your desire to help the unfortunate prisoners who are crying for relief.

Now I have no quarrel with my friends from Philadelphia who will not support this bill. I suppose we all have a little political experience and we all know that if a measure, however good it may be, will interfere with some of our constituents it may be, and undoubtedly is that personal interests usually rises stronger than consideration of the merits of the bill; but this argument applies only to our friends from Philadelphia. I want to say to you gentlemen of the County or City of Philadelphia, that I am authorized directed to say by the warden of the Western Penitentiary who sits in this very Hall here to-night, I am directed to say by Mr. John Frances, who is known to most of you gentlemen, that he is not a candidate for the position of warden in the new penitentiary.

And I say to you gentlemen from Philadelphia now that I have been directed to say to you gentlemen that if this consolidation is put through that we are all for Mr. McKenty to be warden in the new institution, if he desires that position. And I want to say further that the majority of our delegation,—the majority of the twenty-four men in Allegheny county,—will join me, if I may presume to speak for them, in making this recommendation, but in heaven's name, men, don't stop this consolidation; don't commit this crime against the thousands of poor, suffering prisoners because some friend at home may lose a position. All the men now employed will be taken to the new home, and all the positions now filled at Philadelphia will be filled in the new institution.

I appeal especially to you gentlemen from the country counties. I appeal to you, my Democratic friends, to vote for this measure on its merits. It is a serious matter and I ask you o vote for it and consider it, not in a spirit of joke or levity, because it is too serious a measure for us to make sport of, or to consider in a light strain. It is a matter that concerns the unfortunate, the down-and-outer, and the wrecks of society. We, who are sent here to legislate in the interests of the unfortunate, we who are supposed to look out for the moral and intellectual welfare of these unfortunate members of society, can we commit this crime against them by holding them in the slums of the city, when God says, and we all say, their place should be out on the farm,—a place where they can make something out of themselves, in spite of their past records.

Now, my friends of the country districts, perhaps further argument is unnecessary and further discussion a waste of time. I ask you to support the bill on its merits. Vote for this consolidation, because it is the only thing we can do to show the poor prisoner we mean to do something for him. It is the very least we can do to give the poor fellow who is convicted of crime, and who is being punished with the tortures of hell, which it certainly is in the penitentiaries of the State as now conducted. It shows to them that we are willing to give them a helping hand. Do for them gentlemen, what your conscience dictates what you ought to do and that is to vote for the bill.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, just a word. My friend, Mr. Phillips is mistaken when he says that there is an average of ten men sent from the Eastern Penitentiary yearly to the insane asylum, when he states that the men who are brought from the Eastern Penitentiary owing to their physical condition, were not able to work more than one hour a day when it is a matter of history and fact that the inmates of the Eastern Penitentiary have within a short time back built an entire addition to that institution without any aid coming from the outside.

This is not a political issue. My friend from Allegheny allows his imagination to carry him beyond the issue. He appeals first to the members from the country, trying to make it an issue as between Philadelphia and the country districts; then he turns to his Democratic friends and appeals to them, not as members of bers of a political party, and I want to say, Mr. Speaker, to you and to the gentlemen of this House, that Bob McKenty is not interested in the defeat of this bill for the purpose of holding his position. Bob McKenty's reputation in Philadelphia, and among those who know him, is of such a character that he would gladly be received by others in a better position than he occupies to-day as warden of the Eastern Penitentiary, and on behalf of Mr. McKenty I want to say that the men of Philadelphia not standing to this bill in order to keep McKenty in his job, and I decline, on his behalf, the services of Mr. Stein and the promised backing of the men of Allegheny to get Mr. McKenty the position of Warden in the combined institution, because he would not have it.

Mr. BARNETT. Mr. Speaker, the counties outside of Centre county and Philadelphia have an interest in this matter, and they have an interest in the prisoners who occupy these institutions. The gentlemen who have spoken in favor of the abandonment of the Eastern Penitentiary, and the enlargement or construction of a big penitentiary in the central part of the State, in Centre county, have spoken very eloquently in regard to the desirablility of taking care of the prisoners and of working for their betterment. All the counties want to do that. A penal institution should be more than a penal institution. It should be reformatory and helpful.

The Eastern Penitentiary has been referred to as if it were not accompislhing anything along this line. I want to say from observation and from testimony that the Eastern Penitentiary is and has been doing a splendid work along this line. Prisoners have been wonderfully helped during their occupancy of the Eastern Penitentiary. They have been helped as to manhood, as to character, as to intelligence, as to executive ability, and as to artistic ability. They enter the Eastern Penitentiary without any trade. oftentimes as without any ability, mechanical ability. They are there given a trade and they are so trained that in a few years they turn out work that is a surprise, astonishing in its perfection, and neatness and completness, work that would be a credit to any of our factories in any part of the State of Pennsylvania.

The Eastern Penitentiary and the proposed central penitentiary in Centre county have been referred to also in another way, that the stigma of being a jailbird will be softer than coming from the lovely hills of Centre county, than when coming from the Eastern Penitentiary. I want to say to you that "A rose by another name would smell as sweet," and the stigma of being a jailbird would be just as hard to overcome, coming from Centre county, as coming from any other part of the State. In addition to that it would be no small expense, at this time, to construct such a penitentiary in Centre county. At large expense this penitentiary has been erected. created and constructed at Philadelphia. It is a splendid institution. well kept. well managed, provided at very great expense. To provide another equal to it, in any other part of the State will entail a large expense and at this time money is an item in Pennsylvania. We have demands for money way beyond the supply, and I think it would be well to go slow upon this movement at this time, and let this splendid institution remain where it is, so long as it so well fulfills its work, as it has been doing in the recent past and for many years past.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from York, far be it from me to in any way detract from the splendid reputation that our friend from Philadelphia, Mr. McKenty, has earned and especially well deserves. We all are a unit, we all agree, that he is in the very forefront of progressive wardens, and it is with this fact in mind that we will gladly accord to him the position of being warden in the new and larger institution if he wishes that place, but just a word with reference to expense.

I would have the members of this House remember that this bill carries with it no appropriation whatever. It simply authorizes the management of the Western Penitentiary to at this time so adjust their plans as to accomplish this ultimately, and I would say further, with reference to the expense of building this institution, that if the Commonwealth, at some time in the future, sees fit to turn that property down in Philadelphia into cash, being in the very midst of the built up section of that city, they can realize for that plant enough money to build this entire institution up in Centre county. I trust that you will support this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for Concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The next special order for 9.35 o'clock is House Bill No. 200.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 200, entitled:

An Act amending the first and seventeenth sections of an act approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirteen entitled "An Act to provide revenue for State and county purposes and in cities coextensive wtih counties for city and county purposes imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property providing for the assessment and collection of the same providing for the duties and compensation of prothonotaries and recorders in connection therewith and modifying existing legislation which provided for raising revenue for State purposes" relating to taxing bonds mortgages and other securities and also by removing the exemption of life and fire insurance corporations having no capital stock from the provisions of the act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, this is a very important bill and a bill to which opposition cannot be based on any sound political or econimic basis. The exemption from the payment of a four mill tax on securities held by mutual life insurance companies was not passed, as has been circularized by those insurance companies, by this House, after careful consideration. Prior to 1907 there was considerable ambiguity in the law about the taxation of purely mutual companies. In that year an act of assembly passed by which it was the intention of the Legislature to make all insurance companies pay a tax whether they be mutual or private, privately owned or those held by stock holders and held as capital stock. That act was carried to the Supreme Court and was nullified by the action of that Supreme Tribunal. In 1911, the Legislature passed another act which passed the scrutiny of the Supreme Court of this State and all insurance companies were obliged to pay a four mill tax. In 1913 this Legislature made the personal property tax a county rather than a State tax. In the change of making that a county rather than a State tax great influence was brought to bear; aye, I might say the dominating issue, the controlling influence, came from Philadelphia on the part of those interested in rapid transit of that city. It was my pleasure as Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee to hold up that legislation for four weeks to see that the bill which passed this House would accomplish the purpose for which it had been written. So much concerned were we in the bill providing for the proper regulation and control of the money derived by the increased borrowing capacity that when the bill was written and re-written and re-written over again we failed to see that in that bill in addition to the exemption of fire insurance companies without capital stock there was written in the little word "life," so that the life insurance companies without capital stock were exempt from the payment of the four mill tax. What does it mean? It meant that in Philadelphia alone, quoting from the City Solicitor whose talent and whose knowledge and intelligence is unimpeachable, it cost the City of Philadelphia $584,500.

Mr. Speaker, when I stood on this floor the other day and spoke of moral legislation, I had in mind the taxation of every person whether it be an actual person or an artificial person like a corporation, so that all should bear their share of the political burdens of the State. (I would be very much obliged, Mr. Speaker, if you would inform the gentlemen in the back of the Hall that I am talking to the members of the Legislature and that the gentlemen behind the rail take their talk outside.)

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests that all conversation in the back of the Hall cease and the Sergeant-at-Arms will see that this request is carried out.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, the personal property tax at this time is a county tax. Prior to 1913 is was a state tax collected by the State and seventy-five per centum returned to the source from which it was collected. The county that suffers most, aye, the county that suffers more than all the other counties put together is Philadelphia. It costs my city $584,000 a year because that word "life" is written in and there is not a man on the floor of this House that knew that that word "life" was in there when that bill came back in the shape of a conference report. I cannot understand the opposition to this bill except that it comes from the mercenary corporations that would have you believe that when you tax the mutual companies you tax the policy holders. If you want to argue the thing out with fine logical fineness of course it does fall on the policy holder. You should come down to my city and see the building that is being erected there, one of the finest buildings in the city, by the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company. Why talk about robbing the counties of revenue on the basis that the insurance company would have to take it out of the policy holder when they have taken from the policy holder over a million, aye, nearly two million dollars, and built one of the finest buildings in the State. If in your wisdom you think this is a bad bill that should not go on the statute books, then vote against it. If you feel your responsibility that governmental taxes shall be paid and not evaded; if you feel that moral legislation shall begin from this time on and that those who owe the Commonwealth their share of taxation shall pay it, you will vote for this bill and no one, I care not who, will be justified in opposition to this bill on any ground particularly on the puny ground that it costs more to the mutual company policy holders; it will not cost the policy holders more money. The mutual companies ta-day are competing with all the old line companies and they are taking the profits of the policy holders to erect buildings. My city has been cheated out of $584,000, and every other county where there is a mutual company has also felt this loss but loss in any of the counties of the State is inconsequential and trivial compared to the loss that we suffered down in my home. I say, Mr. Speaker, that no better bill, no fairer bill, no bill more truly taxing from a source of taxation possibilities can be presented than this bill; no bill has appeared on the floor of this House during the three sessions I am here that is more worthy of consideration and I ask that this bill be passed without any material opposition.

Mr. BARNETT. Mr. Speaker, I object to a part of this bill It provides for the taxation of mutual companies of that character. The mutual Fire Insurance company is not operated for profit. It is a combination of individuals for their mutual help and protection. It is not operated for profit, not organized for profit it is organized for mutual help and mutual assistance. It has no capital stock; it has policy holders and those policy holders on occasion are assessed to pay the losses of those who are numbered among the insured policy holders of that company, who have suffered loss. That feature of the bill I do most earnestly object to. To put upon the people who are doing no business for profit to make money, they are making no money, to pay this tax out of and to impose a tax upon them or interfere would be a burden, might indeed put some of these companies out of business, or prevent the organization of other companies for mutual help in a community. We want to encourage any business of that kind and not legislate them out of business.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RONEY. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MEARKLE Mr. Speaker, I would like to know what is to be done with this form of tax or revenue that is to be collected

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker. It becomes of course a part of the general fund of the municipality or county in which it is collected.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, the Philadelphia fund?

Mr. RONEY. Of course the county in which it is collected puts it into its general fund.

Mr. MEARKLE. Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, as I understand the proposition, we have in our city, in Allegheny county no mutual life insurance company. On the other hand, there are a great many of my constituents, and I think a great many citizens of Allegheny county, and Pittsburgh particularly, that are carrying life insurance in mutual life insurance companies. I know that I am. Now, there are not orgnized for profit, but purely on a mutual basis, and as I understand it, a tax of four mills is to be put upon them, which will eventually be collected from me to go into a fund for repair work in the City of Philadelphia, or city improvements. Now, if that is true, I am against the bill. I am not sure that I am correct. As I understand it, a four-mill tax will be collected from all of the policy holders of a mutual life insurance company. If that insurance company is in Philadelphia, and they write life insurnce throughout the State of Pennsylvania, that four-mill tax will be collected wherever it may be throughout the State to go into a fund in the City of Philadelphia, the purpose of which is to build subways and other public improvements. If this is true, I am against the bill.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, the gentlemen from Pittsburgh is absolutely and completely in error in regard to the terms and provisions of this bill. I am not asking Pittsburgh to help build our subways, and in the Legislature of 1913, one of the very reasons why the personal property tax was made a county, rather than a State tax, was to give us back home additional borrowing capacity Now, then, the personal property tax that is collected out in Allegheny county is yours, absolutely and completely, and we cannot touch it, and the gentleman is in error in regard to the four-mill tax. The four-mill tax is only assessed against the corporate holdings of the company or the corporate loans and the particular company in Philadelphia that I speak of has loans of that character aggregating $146,000,000.00 and the four-mill tax is only put on that. You are not destroying the opportunity that the policy holder has or at least the contemplative policy holder has of getting cheap rates in the insurance deal. Our companies are competing with the oldline companies of New York and they will not feel this four-mill tax to such an extent as to raise appreciably your premium. I say it is simply in this case an evasion of political responsibility on the part of life insurance companies. I might say that this Legislature in 1913 passed a bill making life insurance companies having no capital stock, that is, purely mutual companies, pay the four mill tax. The intent of the Legislature was that they should, but when the bill got over into the Senate, when we had all the difficulties about the Rapid Transit, and when we sat down to the Conference Report I am candid to say I never saw the word "life" in it. I do not know how it got in. When the bill was first introduced it was not the intention of this legislaure to exempt them, and when the exemption was made nobody knew it until months and months afterward when the City Controller in making up a budget found that there had been put in the act of 1913 an exemption of purely mutual companies. It was a mistake. This Legislature passed the bill making them pay the four mill tax on their corporate loans, and they ought to pay it. It is not going to increase, I venture to say, one whit the premium cost in policy holding in a purely mutual company.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, I severely dislike to take exception to this bill for the very reason that it has been introduced by my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney. My association with him in this legislature has led me to believe that when he is back of a bill it is with an honest motive, and it is with that ultimate motive that I believe the gentleman is pressing the passage of this bill at this time, but having received so many letters from people in this State, some of which, are from my friends in the City of Erie on this piece of legislation my suspicions were finally aroused that it ought to be called to the attention of the House. I think it is unnecessary for me this evening to enter into any extended argument on this proposition, but I do wish to call the attention of the membership to one fact, and I presume that fact is well within the grasp of the intellect of every one of you, that mutual life insurance companies have no capital stock and the four mill tax in the end is paid out of the pocket of the policy holder. I am not speaking from the standpoint of having any interest in the bill but speaking from the standpoint of some of the other people in the state who do not desire the bill. Now let me give you an illustration. It is kind of a comical letter, but I want to read to you a sample of the letters that I get from my friends up home. After addressing the letter and writing "Dear Sir," he says:

"House Bill No. 200, introduced February 1st, 1915, provides for a 4 mill tax on securities held for the ultimate payment of my $10,000 policy in the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, which I took out half a dozen years ago, for the protection of my prospective widow.

Inasmuch as the premiums are each year taxed as paid, to again tax them as held, in invested form, is manifestly unjust. All dividends accruing on my policy in this strictly mutual life insurance company are applied to reduce the annual premium.

But the screaming farce of this rotten bill is that the tax be used as a basis of a bond issue of the City of Philadelphia for a subway system and other municipal improvements.

Now wouldn't that subway in Philadelphia be a tremendous protection to my widow in Erie, at my death!!!!

When legislators monkey with mutual life insurance, some one will get hurt in the scrimmage.

What are you going to do about it, please?"

I do not exactly say that this bill is gotten up for the purpose of municipal improvements, but that idea has gone throughout the State, and that impression is held by poilcy holders in the State of Pennsylvania. The writer of this letter is not a fanatic or a crank, and I have withheld his name, but I have had dozens of letters along that line, and upholding the judgment of this legislature in 1913 when they took off the tax of four mills on mutual life insurance companies, and I came to the conclusion that this bill should not be passed.

Now in a word, this seems to be my impression of the matter. I am too tired after being in court to-day to make any speech. I just want to give the House a few lines, and then I am through.

It must be plain to any one who will stop to think, that all taxes paid by a mutual life insurance company must, in the last analysis, be borne by its policy holder. The premiums paid by these policy holders are already taxed. To impose an additional tax upon the securities purchased by these funds does not find any justification in good morals or economics. When a man is willing to put aside a given sum each year to protect his dependents and prevent them from becoming a charge upon the State, it is clearly in the interests of the State that his thrift and foresight be encouraged rather than taxed. Certainly the funds put aside for this almost sacred purpose should not be seized upon as a convenient financial basis for the construction of municipal improvements.

Our Federal Government, responsive to the voice of public opinion completely exempted life insurance policies under the recently enacted War Revenue Tax Law. England allows her people certain income tax exemption provided the amount be invested in life insurance protection. Other European nations have adopted compulsory insurance.

Life insurance companies having no capital stock and operating solely on the mutual plan are in the same class as building and loan associations, fraternal organizations and saving funds, all of which are exempt from the tax contemplated in the proposed bills.

And I think, sir, before we vote on this, irrespective of the fact that we all have great respect for the sponsor of this bill, and irrespective of the fact that it may have worked some harm to his city, that we ought to, in the last instance, closely analyze the proposition before voting upon it. I am not a policyholder in any mutual life insurance company and I am not personally interested; but in fairness to those thousands of people who have these kind of policies throughout the State, I think that this bill ought to fall.

Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, like my friend, Mr. Mearkle, from Allegheny, I happen to be the holder of a policy in a mutual life insurance company. I do not, however, approach the consideration of this question as a policy holder. I approach this question as a citizen of Philadelphia and a voter of Pennsylvania and I think that this question should be treated in a more broadminded manner than the selfish interest of a policy holder would dictate.

I desire to say to the gentlemen of the House that I am familiar with the tactics that were pursued in bringing the word "life" in the class of exemptions in Bill No. 200 as presented here to-night by my friend, Mr. Roney, from Philadelphia. I say that I charge the person,—I do not know who did it—but I charge the person who put that word in exempting mutual life insurance companies, with having performed a trick, a mean low-down trick and that is all it was. There is absolutely no reason why the Penn Mutual Life or any other large life insurance company which has to compete with other life insurance companies should not pay this tax. And, furthermore, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, if this life insurance company of Philadelphia were a small, provincial affair, if it were something that had for its basis the purpose or maintenance of a county fire department or for its maintenance a volunteer association, nobody would want to put a tax on this life insurance company; but why should this big life insurance company, the biggest in the world, competing with every insurance company in every part of the globe, why should that insurance company be exempt from paying this tax if for no other reason than that they played a trick or somebody played a trick on the Ways and Means Committee of the 1913 session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania. I say to you, Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, we should denounce and discountenance any action of that kind, and for that reason alone vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, It is contrary to our rules to speak more than twice on the same subject, but I would ask the indulgence of the House for a few moments to answer the most fallacious argument of the gentleman from Erie. He did not mention that there were any life insurance companies without capital stock in his county, so that his opposition to the bill is based upon what in this legislature has prevailed for many years and should never have come in here—his argument is based on the idea that Philadelphia gained something and, consequently, all the men from the farming districts or the other small towns throughout the State should be against it. That spirit should not prevail in this legislature, and that man in Erie who holds a ten thousand dollar policy in prospect for his widow, he does not lay a single stone in our subway back home and his policy won't pay one cent more next year than it does this year, because all these great insurance companies seem not only to have standardized their policies but they have standardized their prices; and that man in Erie with the ten thousand dollar policy who writes that huge joke or letter which says that he does not want his widow to pay any part of it to the cost of our subway understands the situation not at all. The one big company in the State that is escaping taxation is the Penn Mutual. The policyholder should not deceive himself that he is going to be charged with any added political burden, but the policyholder should feel that he stands in concord with all the other good citizens of this Commonwealth in demanding that corporations, or individuals, or any one else who is charged with the responsibility of bearing their share of political taxation should pay it; and I want my friends from the country to know that the gentleman from Erie paid me no compliment when he said he was sorry to be against my bill. I ask no man now, I never did before, and I never will again, ask any man to support any legislation of mine on personal reasons. This is not a mutual compliment club. This is a serious, deliberative body. This legislation to me is impersonal and I am no such egotist as to think that I could absolutely convince and control two hundred and six other votes. I cannot do it, and I do not even care to try it. I am not so constituted. I discharge my responsibilities when I vote right and I only want to argue to you right when I say to you that this bill is a very meritorious bill, adding not only to my county but to every other county where any life insurance company without capital stock may go up to any pretentious proportions; and I want to say to you that this company escapes taxation without benefitting the policyholders. I know whereof I speak and I say to my friends from the country and friend from Pittsburgh , this measure is for your joint decision. I place it on no personal ground and I look for no such cheap compliment. I say our duty to-night is plain, is to vote, man for man, each one in succession, in support of this bill, and I think that every one shall toe the political scratch and that the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company shall not escape in paying into my city five hundred and thirty-four thousand dollars that she justly owes.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, as the number of members of this House who intend supporting this bill is small, and in view of the fact that we are trying to get through by the sixth of May, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by a number of members.

The SPEAKER. The Chair believes that all debate is over on this question and will therefor order the Clerk to call the roll.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Legislative Journal.

Session 1915 | 121st of the General Assembly

VOL. 3. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 27, 1915. No. 49.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, April 27, 1915.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Charles H. Kline) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Kind Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this beautiful morning. Nature clothed in her most glorious apparel presents to us a sight that is very cheering and encouraging. We are reminded at the same time of that family who have been brought into the shadows of depressing sorrow by the accidental removal from the scenes of this life of their son and relative one of our Senate pages. May the consolations of the gospel be with them. Guide us so that we may all live to Thy glory, and to the best good of our fellowmen. We ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HILTON, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

The PRESIDENT. Senate Bill No. 914, on final passage, entitled:

An Act creating a fund for the purpose of rebuilding restoring and replacing buildings structures equipment or other property of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty and regulating the placing of insurance thereon and providing penalties for any violation of the provisions of this act has not been received from the printer and will go over in its order.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 941, as follows:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all elective offices of cities of the second class and all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses" approved the twenty-fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen so as to make the proviso to section thirteen of said act operative where two or more candidates for the office of judge of any court of record consisting of several judges are to be elected at one election

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section thirteen of an act entitled "An Act to regulate nominations and elections for all elective offices of cities of the second class and all offices of judge of a court of record providing for non-partisan nominations and elections for said offices abolishing certain existing methods of nomination in such cases and the use of party or political names or appellations at elections with respect to said offices imposing certain duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth county commissioners and election officers and clerks and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof and the punishment of certain offenses" approved the twenty-fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen which section reads as follows

"Section 13 The candidates for nomination at any primary for any office within the provisions of this act to be filled at the succeeding election equal in number to twice the number to be elected at the succeeding election who shall have received at such primary the highest number of votes cast for nomination to the office for which they are candidates (or if the number of all the candidates voted for as aforesaid be not more than twice the number to be elected then all the candidates) shall be the nominees for such office and their names and none other except as hereinafter provided shall be printed as candidates for such respective offices upon the official ballots which are provided according to law for use at such succeeding election Provided That whenever at any primary any candidate for nomination to any of the aforesaid offices to which but one person is to be elected at the succeeding election shall receive a number of votes greater than one-half of the total number of votes cast for such office at such primary and greater than one-half of the number of ballots cast in the political district or division within which the nomination is to be made such candidate shall be the sole nominee for such office and his name and none other shall be printed as candidate for such office upon the official ballots for use at such succeeding election

In case of a tie the candidates receiving the tie vote shall appear and cast lots before the county commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be on the third Friday after the primary and the one to whom the lot shall fall shall be entitled to the nomination Provided In any case where the fact of a tie vote is not authoritatively determined until after the third Wednesday after the day of the primary the day for appearing and casting lots shall be the second day after the day on which the fact of such tie is authoritatively determined If any candidate or candidates receiving a tie vote fail to appear before twelve o'clock noon on said day the county commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be shall cast lots for him or them For the purpose of casting lots any candidate may appear in person or by proxy appointed in writing" be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows

Section 13 The candidates for nomination at any primary for any office within the provisions of this act to be filled at the succeeding election equal in number to twice the number to be elected at the succeeding election who shall have received at such primary the highest number of votes cast for nomination to the office for which they are candidates (or if the number of all the candidates voted for as aforesaid be not more than twice the number to be elected then all the candidates) shall be the nominees for such office and their names and none other except as hereinafter provided shall be printed as candidates for such respective offices upon the official ballots which are provided according to law for use at such succeeding election Provided That whenever at any primary any candidate for nomination to any of the aforesaid offices to which but one person is to be elected at the succeeding election shall receive a number of votes greater than one-half of the total number of votes cast for such office at such primary and greater than one-half of the number of ballots cast in the political district or division within which the nomination is to be made such candidate shall be the sole nominee for such office and his name and none other shall be printed as candidate for such office upon the official ballots for use at such succeeding election

And Provided further That whenever at any primary nominations are to be made of candidates to fill two or more vacancies in any appellate or other court of record composed of two or more judges if any one or more of such candidates shall receive a number of votes greater than one-half of the total number of votes cast for such office at such primary and greater than one-half of the number of ballots cast for any one candidate for any office in the political district or division within which the nomination is to be made then and in such event each of such candidates shall be the sole nominee for one of the respective vacancies in such office If it appear that less than the whole number of candidates for such office to be elected at the ensuing election have received the required number of votes hereinbefore specified then and in such event he or they who have received that number of votes at the primary shall be the sole nominee or nominees for that number of vacancies in such office and his name or their names and none other shall be printed as candidates for that number of vacancies in and for such office upon the official ballots for use at such succeeding election The number of candidates for any remaining vacancy or vacancies in such office for which the primary has declared no sole nominee or nominees as herein just provided and the manner of their election shall remain as provided by existing law In the event of one or more candidates being sole nominees as above provided there shall be two groups of names of candidates on the ballots the names of such sole nominees being in one group and the names of other candidates in the other

In case of a tie the candiates receiving the tie vote shall appear and cast lots before the county commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be on the third Friday after the primary and the one to whom the lot shall fall shall be entitled to the nomination Provided In any case where the fact of a tie vote is not authoritatively determined until after the third Wednesday after the day of the primary the day for appearing and casting lots shall be the second day after the day on which the fact of such tie vote is authoritatively determined If any candidate or candidates receiving a tie vote fail to appear before twelve o'clock noon on said day the county commissioners or the Secretary of the Commonwealth as the case may be shall cast lots for him or them For the purpose of casting lots any candidate may appear in person or by proxy appointed in writing

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 837 (House No. 1134), entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-sixth day of April one thousand eight hundred eighty-three entitled "An Act relative to the eligibility of candidates for the office of district attorney"

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHANTZ. Mr. President, for the last thirty-two years one of the qualifications for eligibility to the office of District Attorney was that a man had to be a member of the bar for at least two years. There has been no complaint and no reason why this should be changed. This act amends the law of 1883 so that a candidate would now only have to be a member of the bar one year to make him eligible for the office of District Attorney. The office of District Attorney is a semi-judicial one and there is no reason whatever why a man should not at least have been a practicing attorney for two years to make him eligible to the important office of District Attorney, and I trust that the Senators will defeat this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL INTRODUCED.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. VARE, from the Committee on Municipal Affairs, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1050, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Philadelphia county.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1050, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Philadelphia county.

be read the first time.

Mr. GERBERICH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION CONTINUING THE COMMISSION APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE AND EXAMINE THE VARIOUS LAWS IN EFFECT IN THE DIFFERENT STATES RELATING TO RECORDING OF DEEDS, MORTGAGES, THE TRANSFER OF LANDS, THE INSURANCE OF TITLES, AND THE PRACTICAL OPERATION OF SUCH LAWS, AND TO PROPOSE SUCH CHANGES IN THE CONSTITUTION AND LAWS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH AS TO INSURE THE BEST SYSTEM OF RECORDING.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. VARE offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, April 27, 1915.

Whereas, In compliance with a concurrent resolution approved May twelve, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, a commission of five persons was appointed by the Governor on December twentieth, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, to investigate and examine the various laws in effect in the different States relating to the recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, the insurance of titles, and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth as to insure the best system of recording; and

Whereas, The said commission made a second report to the present Legislature, again recommending an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and also recommending that the commission shall be continued, because, in order that the relief needed may be effected, questions of great importance will have to be carefully and exhaustively considered, but the membership of the commission was left to the discretion of the present Legislature; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the commission to investigate and examine the various laws in effect in the various States relating to recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, insurance of titles, and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth as to insure the best system of recording, be authorized to continue its work, and make report and recommendations to the next General Assembly in one thousand nine hundred and seventeen; and that the expense therefor be limited to five thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, and that the same be provided for in the next general appropriation bill; and be it further

Resolved, That all the powers conferred upon said commission, under resolution of May twelfth, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, authorizing the appointment of said commission, are hereby continued.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39 be suspended in order to consider the resolution just read at this time.

Mr. CLARK. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will now resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 914, on final passage, on page 3 of today's calendar, entitled:

An Act creating a fund for the purpose of rebuilding restoring and replacing buildings structures equipment or other property of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty and regulating the placing of insurance thereon and providing penalties for any violation of the provisions of this act the bill having been received from the printer and is now on the desks of the Senators.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 914, as follows:

An Act creating a fund for the purpose of rebuilding restoring and replacing buildings structures equipment or other property of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty and regulating the placing of insurance thereon and providing penalties for any violation of the provisions of this act

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That for the purpose of creating a fund for the rebuilding restoration and replacement of any structures buildings equipment or other property owned by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty the following funds income and revenue of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are hereby specifically dedicated appropriated and set apart to constitute a fund separate and apart from all other funds of the Commonwealth and to be known as the Insurance Fund to wit

(a) All moneys now in the custody of the State Treasurer heretofore "Appropriated and set apart for the purpose of paying the present indebtedness and the interest thereon and such further indebtedness as may hereafter be contracted on the part of the Commonwealth" and commonly known as the Sinking Fund in excess of the total amount of the funded obligations or indebtedness of the Commonwealth chargeable thereto the amount of such excess in the Sinking Fund to be determined by the State Treasurer audited by the Auditor General and approved by the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners as of the date of the approval of this act

(b) All revenues of the Commonwealth received by the State Treasurer after the date of the approval of this act which under existing laws are appropriated and set apart to the Sinking Fund

(c) One-half of all taxes received upon premiums of foreign fire insurance companies after the date of the approval of this act

(d) All payments hereafter made by insurance companies on account of loss or damage to property of the Commonwealth caused by fire or other casualty or on account of the cancellation of existing policies of insurance

(e) All income received from interest upon deposits in bank or upon securities in which the said fund may be invested

Section 2 The said fund and all interest increment and additions thereto shall be and remain in the custody of the State Treasurer and shall be invested and reinvested by him under the supervision and direction of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners in lawfully issued interest-bearing securities of the United States of America the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or any other of the United States or any county city borough or school district of this Commonwealth or any obligations of municipalities of other states but preferably in such securities issued by municipalities within this Commonwealth Provided however that current receipts and income applicable to said fund shall be deposited at interest in legal depositories of the public funds until the same shall accumulate in sufficient amount to justify the investment thereof in interest-bearing securities as hereinbefore provided

Section 3 The said fund hereby created shall be available for expenditure in the manner hereinafter provided for the rebuilding restoration or replacement of buildings structures equipment or othed property owned by the Commonwealth and damaged or destroyed by fire or other casualty and for no other purpose whatsoever And for such purpose the State Treasurer is authorized and directed by and with the consent and approval of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners to make sale from time to time of such part of such securities as may be necessary for the purpose of this act

Section 4 Whenever the total amount of said fund shall exceed the sum of one million dollars no further investment in securities shall be made on account thereof but all additional income and receipts applicable thereto shall be deposited in legal depositories of public funds and the excess over and above the said sum of one million dollars shall be transferred annually on the thirty-first day of December to the general fund of the State Treasury

Section 5 Whenever loss or damage by fire or other casualty shall occur to any structure building equipment or other property owned by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the department board of trustees overseers commisioners or other branch of the State government having control or custody thereof shall make report of such loss or damage to the Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings setting forth specifically the use and character of the structure building equipment or other property damaged or destroyed the original cost thereof the estimated amount of the loss or damage and cost of restoration rebuilding replacement and such other data and information as may be required by the said Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings who shall make such examination and investigation as may be necessary and report the result thereof to the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings whereupon the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings may in its discretion authorize the rebuilding restoration or replacement of the property damaged or destroyed and for that purpose is hereby authorized to have plans and specifications prepared and contracts executed and to supervise the erection construction or replacement thereof under the supervision of the Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings or other duly authorized agent of the Board of Public Grounds and Buildings such rebuilding restoration or replacement to be in substantial accord with the original character use and purpose of the property damaged or destroyed Provided That the provisions of this act shall not apply to armory buildings owned by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and under the supervision of the Armory Board of the State of Pennsylvania

Section 6 All expenditures on account of contracts entered into under the provisions of this act shall be examined by the Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings and if found correct he shall certify to the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings that the materials have been furnished and the work and labor have been performed in accordance with the plans specifications and contracts approved by the said board and after having been so certified by him shall be approved by the Executive Controller and when so approved shall be audited settled and paid by the Auditor General and the State Treasurer in the manner provided by law Provided that whenever the Board of Commissioners of

Public Grounds and Buildings shall have taken such action as will involve expenditures from said fund they shall forthwith certify the probable amount of expenditure to the State Treasurer and Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners who shall forthwith take such action as is necessary to provide funds sufficient to meet the obligations so entered into

Section 7 That from and after the adoption and approval of this act it shall be unlawful for any Department Bureau Commission or other branch of the State Government or any Board of Trustees overseers managers or other person or persons or custodians of State property to purchase secure or obtain any policy of insurance on any property owned by the Commonwealth the term of which policy of insurance shall extend beyond the thirty-first day of December Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and twenty or to purchase obtain or secure any such policy of insurance for any amount in excess of the amount of insurance outstanding at the date of the approval of this act after deducting from such amount twenty per centum thereof for each calendar year which shall have elapsed from and after the thirty-first day of December Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen to the date of purchasing securing or obtaining such policy of insurance

Section 8 The State Treasurer and his bondsman shall be responsible for the safe keeping of and accounting for said funds in the same manner and under the same penalties as for the safe keeping of and accounting for the other funds of this Commonwealth

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator who is the sponsor of this bill if he will kindly permit himself to be interrogated, why the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should not be able to make an appropriation covering a loss in case of destruction by fire rather than in the way proposed by the bill of creating a fund?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Franklin, Mr. Hoke, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOKE. Mr. President, I will. The purpose of this bill as I understand it, is to create a fund for the rebuilding of State property destroyed by fire. Under the present methods there is no means whereby State property can be restored and rebuilt without a special act of the Legislature appropriating money for that purpose. If a building should be destroyed by fire directly after the adjournment of this Legislature next month there would be no way of rebuilding that building until the next session of the Legislature and actually appropriating money for the purpose unless the State should borrow money until the next session of the Legislature. This bill also provide that after the year 1920, it shall not be necessary for the State to carry any insurance on its buildings. The State will have its fund and will carry its own insurance. There will be a fund of a million dollars especially appropriated for the purpose of rebuilding State property, and it will therefore not be necessary for the State to insure its own property.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, April 27, 1915.

The House met at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Our Father who art in heaven, we thank Thee that in Thy infinite wisdom Thou hast made it possible for us to approach Thee in prayer. We pray Thee that according to the multitude of Thy tender mercies Thou wouldst blot out all our transgressions. Purge us with hyssop that we shall be clean; wash us and we shall be whiter than snow. Remove our sins from us as far as the east is from the west; cast them behind Thy back into the depths of the sea and remember them no more against us. We thank Thee for these beautiful spring days; for our happy environments and for our glorious associations. We pray Thee, O God, that Thou wouldst remember the members of the House who are absent on account of sickness and bereavement. May they find comfort in Thy Word and be under the guidance of the Holy Ghost. Bless the work of this day, and may Thy name be glorified in it. We ask for Christ's sake. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings when, on motion of Mr. Blackburn, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

NAYS—1.

Bungard,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. LAUER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to call up House Bill No. 499, File Folio 5305, on page nineteen of to-day's calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed for the Present.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 499, entitled:

An Act to repeal section one of an act entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved April twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four providing for the further regulation of such corporations" approved the seventeenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lauer, the sponsor for this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAUER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know the purpose of this bill and what effect it will have upon the statute law of the State relating to corporations It repeals the first section of the act of 1887.

Mr. LAUER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Franklin, I beg to say that this bill proposes to put the election of directors of corporations, with the exception of railroad companies, back where it was under the Corporation Act of 1874. The act of 1887 classified directors into terms of one, two, three and four years. This bill proposes to repeal Section 1 of that Act, permitting all the directors to be elected every year and allowing full representation of all minority stockholders. At the present time, under the act of 1887, minority interests are at the mercy of the majority because under the classification system where one-fourth of the directors are elected every year there is no opportunity for minority stockholders to get any representation on the board. If, for example, a number of people owned one-tenth of a private corporation such as a trust company they cannot elect a director under this act of 1887 because they are absolutely frozen out. This bill is to cure that defect. This bill is simply to give representation to a minority, and I claim it is right. I claim that under the constitution of 1874 and the Corporation Act of 1874 which followed that, that annual elections of all the directors was the proper way and the act should never have been changed. This is to abolish the system of classifying directors into directors of one, two, three and four years. Why should corporations elect directors for as long a term as four years? I say, therefore, gentlemen, that this is a very meritorious act and I ask you to pass it.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

SENATE MESSAGES.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows, viz:

In the House of Representatives, April 26th, 1915.

RESOLUTION.

Requesting the National Committee of the Republican Party to select the City of Philadelphia as the place for holding the National Convention of said party in the year 1916.

Section 1 Be it resolved by the House of Representatives if the Senate concur, That the National Committee of the Republican Party be requested to hold the National Convention of the said party for the year 1916 in the City of Philadelphia.

Section 2, That the Clerk of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives be and are hereby appointed a committee to forward a copy of this resolution to the proper officers of the National Committee of the Republican Party.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

House Bill No. 95.

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-fourth day of February one thousand eight hundred thirty-four entitled "An Act relating to executors and administrators" as amended

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for amendment. The votes had on final passage and third reading on said bill were reconsidered in the House of Representatives and the bill amended, in which amendment the Senate has concurred.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. HUBLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 657, File Folio 5339, on page nineteen of to-day's calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed, for the purpose of amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 657, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of an act entitled "An Act relating to the settlement and audit of the accounts of all officers elected or appointed of boroughs townships poor districts and school districts prescribing the time for such settlement and audits for the matter to be contained in the report of settlement and audit for the filing of said report in the office of the clerk of quarter sessions and for appeals to the court of common pleas and Superior and the Supreme Court" by more specifically defining the duties of auditors in regard to the report of settlement and audit.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HUBLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, line 13, by striking out the word "provides" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "as amended by an act approved the twentieth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirteen, entitled "An Act to amend the title, the first section, the second section and the third section of an act of Assembly entitled 'An Act relating to the settlement and audit of the accounts of all officers, elected or appointed, of boroughs, townships, poor districts, and school districts; prescribing the time for such settlement and audits, for the matters to be contained in the report of settlement and audit, for the filing of said report in the office of the clerk of quarter sessions, and for appeals to the court of common pleas and Superior and Supreme Courts,' approved the ninth day of June, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven; by repealing so much thereof as applies to school districts," reads.

Amend section 1, line 15, by inserting before the word "poor" the word "and," and by striking out the words "and school district."

Amend section 1, line 17, by inserting before the word "settlement" the word "said."

Amend section 1, line 25, by inserting before the word "amended" the word "further."

Amend title, line 1, by inserting before the word "amend" the word "further."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1283, entitled:

An Act relating to the trial of civil cases by jury in the courts of this Commonwealth and providing that in any civil cause now pending or hereafter to be brought in any of the courts of this Commonwealth where the damages are by reason of the subject matter of the case unliquidated and in which a trial by jury is had and the verdict of a jury awarding damages is rendered no new trial shall either by the court in which the said cause was tried or by any appellate court in this Commonwealth be granted because the opinion of the court differs from the verdict of the jury as to the amount of the damages and no such damages as awarded shall by any such court be increased reduced or changed.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1359, entitled:

An Act amending section two of an act entitled "An Act to authorize and empower the supervisors of the several townships of the second class, throughout this Commonwealth, upon a petition of a majority of the real estate owners of any or either of the said townships, to levy and collect an electric light or other tax to be used and expended for lighting the streets and highways, lanes, alleys, and public places thereof, and to make and enter into contracts for such lighting," approved the twenty-third day of April, one thousand nine hundred and nine.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. COX in the Chair.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1199, entitled:

An Act exempting agricultural corporations from the payment of a bonus and of State taxes upon their capital stock

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I understand this bill exempts agricultural corporations from taxation. I don't understand why it is that an agricultural corporation should be exempt from paying State tax. All the corporations of our State have got to pay a State tax, it matters not what they are incorporated for. Some of these corporations are very wealthy and well-to-do and I dont quite understand why they should be, in face of all that, exempt from paying taxes. Therefore, I am against this bill.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, it is refreshing to me as Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee that the House at last is getting tired of exempting classes from taxation. Last night the mutual life insurance companies without capital stock were exempt by an overwhelming vote. Today I am very glad to see that we are about to call a halt on exemption from the burdens of taxation that associations or individuals should bear. I think, Mr. Speaker, that this exemption from the payment of capital stock tax imposed on the various corporations of this State as we have it in this bill, involving that principle, should be defeated.

Mr. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker, the idea of this bill is to encourage agricultural corporations. In the first place, farm lands all the time are taxed. If this bill is passed the State won't lose a cent. The idea is to encourage agricultural corporations in order to get away from the old line of farming where the man and his wife dig away with only one way of doing. If it were possible for farm lands to be incorporated it would enable people who are interested in farming to incorporate their farms and manage their farms on modern busisess ideas. The land is taxed and the State would not lose a cent. For instance, all public service corporations pay no local taxes; they pay their State tax. In this case all farm land would have to pay their local taxes. The gentleman from Allegheny said he knows of no corporation that doesn't pay their tax. Mr. Speaker, today all money, all capital, interested in or engaged in manufacturing is not paying a cent. All corporations that manufacture commodities, if any part of their capital is engaged in manufacturing, they are exempt. In this case, the State loses not a cent. If incorporated into a corporation to go into the business of farming there is no loss to the State by taxation. I hope the House will vote for it.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bills falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1094, entitled:

An Act authorizing the depositing of county funds at interest and regulating the manner of selecting such depositories and making such deposits

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOVE. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr Speaker, in this bill in section two it states that the advertisement for bids shall be placed in one weekly or daily paper once a week for three weeks. Does the gentleman think that is sufficient time?

Mr. LOVE.. Mr. Speaker, I do, in a county.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, is there anything in this bill to prevent the funds from going outside of the connty?

Mr, LOVE. Mr. Speaker, it does not mention that at all. The understanding is that this money will be deposited in the county as county money and as county funds are deposited in the county.

Mr. MILLIRON. Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, I have nothing to say concerning the principle of this bill, but the matter of the advertising seems to me to be defective. You take it in a large county and this advertising could be placed in some little weekly or daily paper once each week for three weeks and the majority of the people would not know that such an advertisement is being made. On the other hand in the small counties where there is a small amount of funds, there are very few banks who would care to pay an interest on these deposits and there is nothing in the bill that would prohibit a bank from outside the county to come in and take these funds. In the latter part of the bill it states that these bonds given by the banks shall be held by the county auditors. Now you members who live in a small county of less than seventy-five thousand people know what responsibiltiy can be attached to the county auditor. Casting no reflections on the county auditors, they are called in once a year to audit the accounts, the rest of the time they are back at their homes. There is no bond of any responsibility that is placed upon them that would give them the right to hold these bonds in their possession, but where they have a comptroller in large counties it is all right. In my mind this bill is defective. I am not saying anything about the principle. I would suggest however, to the sponsor of this bill that he have it recommitted for amendment.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Milliron.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Milliron, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if there is anything in the present law that limits the depositing of county funds in a bank within the particular county in which the treasury is located?

Mr MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, nothing except his political affiliations with that bank.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Then, Mr. Speaker, I desire to further ask the gentleman if this bill be passed whether it makes the law any different with regard to this particular point as to whether it be deposited within or without the particular county?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, in Armstrong and Jefferson counties the deposits are made in some bank in which the members and stockholders of that bank were for the treasurer when he was elected. Now providing you were to remove the remuneration that they obtain from the deposits and compel them to pay a percentage or an interest, there would be no reason for making that deposit on that score, and I say it and say it advisedly, that these are most of the difficulties that are met.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. I desire to interrogate the gentleman further.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MILLIRON. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if this bill does not provide that the treasurer may reject any and all bids?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, it does, and that is a weak point in the bill.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MILLIRON. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. H. I. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman wherein this bill is any weaker in that point than the present law?

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I would answer the gentleman by saying that two evils do not make one right.

Mr. BARNETT. Mr. Speaker. This is a good bill. Your county passed through the same thing and has found it out. Ten to twelve years ago the county funds were a source of graft and speculation and peculation in a lot of respect. Ten to fifteen thousand dollars a year went into the hands and pockets of the gang through the depositing of the county funds, and were turned by the gangsters to their benefit and political ranks, the banks and trust companies. The banks and trust companies with political tricksters at their head tried to get hold of the funds of the county to get the benefit. Ten to fifteen thousand dollars a year was lost to the county. By and by, about ten years ago, a campaign for the betterment of things took place and the candidate for county treasurer said he would put the money at interest for the benefit of the county. The people had faith in him and he was elected, and he did deposit the funds for the benefit of the county, and from that day to this it has been thus done, and the revenue coming from the interest on the county's daily balance has paid the salary of the county treasurer and a good salary at that. It is the business way to handle the county funds. Good business men with very large balances and who are careful with their money would do the same thing. They would have some of their money on deposit bearing interest when they had no need for the money, and for the county to do business in a straight business way, they ought to, do the same thing. Every county in Pennsylvania may profit by it, and get enough revenue from that source and pay the county treasurer a good salary and have money enough besides.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Love, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOVE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if my understanding of the bill in one respect is correct, and that is, that the only part of the funds in the hands of the County Treasurer that will be subject to this bill is the part that is known as the surplus fund?

Mr. LOVE. Mr. Speaker, it is.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, therein I think the bill is wrong. I think it should apply to all the funds of the county in the hands of the Treasurer that are on deposit whether in the nature of surplus or active.

Mr. LOVE. Mr. Speaker, I want to correct that. It calls for the surplus and checking account and daily balances.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the "noes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for and one hundred and fifteen voting in the affirmative, more than the majority of the House, the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HARPER. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of House Bill No. 1500 be postponed for the present.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire that order be so maintained in the House that we can hear what is going on. I was not recorded this morning on account of the clerks not being able to hear my voice. It is impossible for us in the rear to hear what is going on when anything is taken up out or order, particularly. Now the Clerk will either have to speak out louder or the Chair will have to maintain better order in the House.

The SPEAKER. The Sergeant-at-arms will see that the gentlemen in the rear of the House keep order.

BILL OF THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of eleven thirty has arrived, the time fixed by Special Order for the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 566, File Folio 5681.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 566, as follows:

An Act relating to and regulating self-propelled traction engines or tractors equipped with metal tired wheels and vehicles trailing after or propelled by traction engines or tractors providing for their registration and the licensing of certain operators by the Highway Department prohibiting the operation of any traction engine or tractor by any person when intoxicated forbidding the passage of any law laying a tax upon or requiring the registration of traction engines or tractors by any county city borough or incorporated town or township establishing the rights of traction engines or tractors upon the public highways with relation to other vehicles providing for their equipment and for the width of tires to be used upon vehicles trailing after or propelled by traction engines or tractors regulating the service of process and proceedings in actions of damages arising therefrom providing for arrest and for service of process and proceedings for violation of this act prescribing the penalties therefore and providing for the disposition of fees and fines imposed thereunder

Clause (b) Traction engines or tractors of the first class put into service after the passage and approval of this act shall not exceed twenty-eight thousand (28,000) pounds in weight including fuel and water and shall not be of a greater width than one hundred ten (110) inches over all The guiding wheels shall be equipped with guide bands not less than two (2) inches in width nor more than one and one-half (1 1-2) inches high The drivers shall be equipped with regular cleats as furnished by the manufacturer No bolt heads nuts or rivets shall project and the use of ice picks or spuds extending beyond the cleats is prohibited on macadamized or paved highways

Clause (c) Traction engines or tractors of the second class including those now in service and those put into service after the passage and approval of this act shall not exceed a weight of thirty-two thousand (32,000) pounds including fuel and water and shall not have a width of more than one hundred ten (110) inches over all The guiding wheels shall be equipped with a guide band of not less than two and one-half (2 1-2) inches wide and not over one and one-half (1 1-2) inches high

Clause (d) The drivers of all traction engines or tractors of the second class may be smooth faced or with flat cleats not less than two and one-half (2 1-2) inches wide and not over one and one-half (1 1-2) inches high When placed diagonally across the entire face of the driver or when placed in two (2) sections similar to the letter "V" the cleats shall not be spaced over nine (9) inches apart from the center to center measured at right angles to the cleats When the cleats are placed on the drivers in two (2) sections known as the Staggard type of cleat they shall not be spaced over fifteen (15) inches apart from center to center measured at right angles to the cleats No bolt heads nuts or rivet heads shall be allowed to project either on the guide wheels or on the drivers and ice picks or spuds projecting beyond the cleats shall be prohibited except on roads which are not macadamized or paved

Clause (e) The regulations prescribed by this act or made by the State Highway Commissioner in pursuance to its provisions shall not permit the owner or operator of any traction engine or tractor to haul unusual or unreasonable weights or to use the public highways in an unusual or unreasonable manner and shall not exempt the owners or operators of such engines or tractors from indictment for nuisance or prevent the granting of injunctions against unusual or unreasonable use of the public highways of the Commonwealth Nor shall these regulations relieve the owner or operator of any traction engine or tractor from liability from damage to the public highways by reason of the careless negligent reckless or wanton operation of such traction engine or tractor

Clause (f) All trailers as specified in definition under section two shall be equipped with smooth wheels only The width of tire on the wheels of trailers shall be sufficient so that including the load on the trailer the weight shall not exceed seven hundred fifty (750) pounds upon any inch in width of the tire of each wheel The gross maximum weight of trailer and load shall in no case exceed twenty-four thousand (24,000) pounds

Clause (g) Any person intending to use a traction engine of the second class for hauling shall apply to the State Highway Commissioner for permission so to do upon a blank in such form as the Highway Department shall prescribe Such application shall set forth the location of the roads over which it is proposed to haul the counties townships and municipalities in which such roads are located the weight of the hauling engine or tractor to be used and its license number the number of trailers to be used the maximum capacity of such trailers and the weight of each when empty the kind of materials to be hauled the date at which the said hauling will be completed

The Highway Commissioner upon receipt of such application shall immediately inform himself as to the condition of the highways mentioned in the said application by referring the same to the local authorities or otherwise and if satisfied that the proposed use of such roads is not unusual or unreasonable shall approve such application and grant such permit He may in his discretion impose such reasonable restrictions as may be necessary to prevent extraordinary damage to the roads by reason of hauling when the roads are soft because of weather conditions

Clause (h) The Highway Commissioner may in his discretion permit townships counties and municipalities contractors employed by the Commonwealth in building roads or by any sub-division of the Commonwealth to use traction engines of the first class for the purpose of hauling road-making materials No such permission shall be granted where hauling will be done upon other than State Highways without the consent of the local authorities charged with the maintenance of such other highways

Clause (i) The State Highway Commissioner upon application in writing approved by the local authorities charged with the maintenance of the highways described in the application may at his discretion grant special permission for the moving of extra-heavy engines trailers loads objects or structures over the public highways under such regulations as he may prescribe

DRIVERS LICENSE.

Section 11 Every person desiring to operate a traction engine or tractor as a paid operator or who is an employe of the owner or custodian thereof shall first obtain an operators license Application for license shall be made upon a blank furnished by the State Highway Department and shall contain the full name of the applicant with his place of residence and shall state that the said applicant is qualified to operate a traction engine It shall be signed by the applicant and verified by oath or affirmation

Upon receipt of an application fee of one dollar ($1) the State Highway Department shall issue to the applicant an operator's license and badge The license shall contain the licensee's name and residence and the date and number of the license It shall be carried by the licensee at all times when operating a traction engine or tractor Upon the badge shall be the words "Pennsylvania Licensed Operator" the year and the number of the license which it accompanies All such badges shall be worn conspicuously on the front of the outer garment of the licensee at all times when said licensee is operating a traction engine or tractor All such licenses shall expire December thirty-first of the year issued Every person other than a paid operator owner custodian of employe desiring to operate a traction engine or tractor shall make application to the State Highway Department upon a blank furnished by the department for a licensed card which shall be furnished free of charge to the applicant and which shall expire upon the thirty-first day of December of the year in which it was issued

Section 12 The moneys derived from registrations and from license fees under the provisions of this act shall be paid by the State Highway Department into the State Treasury for the purpose of building and maintaining the roads of the Commonwealth and to be used as appropriated by the legislature from time to time

REVOCATION OF REGISTRATION OF LICENSE

Section 13 The Highway Commissioner may at his discretion revoke or suspend upon hearing after due notice in writing mailed to his address as stated in his application of the proposed revocation and the grounds therefor for any period up to one year the registration of any traction engine or tractor or license of any driver upon reasonable grounds for improper conduct in operating a traction engine or tractor No person to whom the registration of a traction engine or tractor has been refused or revoked shall drive or operate a traction engine or tractor upon the public highways of this State No person shall knowingly permit any traction engine or tractor which he may own to be driven by any other person whose license has been revoked or by any person to whom registration for a traction engine or tractor has been refused or whose registration of a traction engine or tractor has been revoked

Section 14 When signaled to do so by the driver of any horse or other animal or draft or burden the operator of a traction engine or tractor shall stop and if circumstances require it shall stop his engine until the danger has been avoided When overtaken by any other vehicle legally traveling at a greater speed the operator or driver of any traction engine or tractor when signaled to do so shall turn reasonably to the right or left of the center of the highway allowing the other vehicle free passage to the right or left

LOCAL REGISTRATION AND TAX

Section 15 No city county borough incorporated town or township shall adopt enforce or maintain any ordinance rule or regulation contrary to or inconsistent with the terms of this act or require of any person any license tax upon or registration fee for any traction engine tractor or trailer or any permit or license to operate Operators of traction engines or tractors shall have the same rights upon the public streets and highways as the drivers of any other vehicles and no public road open to horse-drawn vehicles shall be closed to traction engines or tractors

INTOXICATION

Section 16 Any person operating a traction engine when intoxicated shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) or imprisonment for not more than three months or both at the discretion of the court

UNAUTHORIZED USE OF TRACTION ENGINES OR TRACTORS

Section 17 Any person operating a traction engine or tractor under any other number than that of its registration or any person operating any traction engine or tractor without the consent of the owner thereof or any person operating a traction engine or tractor the registration of which has been revoked or, suspended shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00) or imprisonment not exceeding three months or both at the discretion of the court

PENALTIES

Section 18 Any person except as provided in sections sixteen and seventeen violating any of the provisions of this act shall be subject to a fine or penalty of not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) to be collected by summary conviction before any magistrate alderman or justice of the peace as like fines and penalties are now by law collected or in case of non-payment of such fine to undergo an imprisonment in the county prison for a period not exceeding ten (10) days provided that any person so accused may waive such summary trial or hearing and secure the right of trial by jury before the court of quarter sessions of the peace for the county in which the offense is alleged to have been committed by entering security with the magistrate alderman or justice of the peace for his appearance at court Proceedings under this act may also be commenced by the issuance of a warrant in the name of the Commonwealth which warrant may be served by a constable policeman or other officer having authority to serve warrants in any part of the Commonwealth a copy of the affidavit or information being served with such warrant Any officer serving such warrant 'shall take the defendant before a magistrate alderman or justice of the peace of the county in which the defendant is found who shall take bail for his appearance before the magistrate or justice of the peace who issued the warrant or for a trial by jury in accordance with the provisions of this act

DISPOSITION OF FINES

Section 19 All fines and penalties collected under the provisions of this act for violations of the same shall be paid to the treasurer of the county in which the offense is committed

SERVICE OF PROCESS IN CIVIL ACTIONS

Section 20 All civil actions for damages arising from the use and operation of any traction engine tractor or trailer as aforesaid may be brought in the county in which the alleged damages were sustained and service of process may be made either by the sheriff of the county where the suit is brought serving the same personally if the defendant is without said county or by such sheriff deputizing the sheriff of the county wherein the defendant in the suit or his registered agent resides or where services may be had upon him under the existing laws of this Commonwealth in like manner as processes may be served in the proper county

REPEALING CLAUSE

Section 21 The act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen Pamphlet Laws page six hundred seventy-two entitled "An Act relating to and regulating motor vehicles and vehicles trailing after or propelled by motor vehicles controlling their speed upon the public streets and highways in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing for their registration and licensing of certain operators by the State Highway Department prohibiting the operation of any motor vehicle by any person when intoxicated or without the consent of the owner forbidding the passage of any law laying a tax upon or requiring the registration of motor vehicles or licensing of any operator or regulating the speed of motor vehicles by any county borough city incorporated town or township establishing the rights of motor vehicles upon the public highways with relation to other vehicles providing for their equipment and for the width of tires to be used upon motor vehicles and vehicles trailing after or propelled by motor vehicles regulating the service of process and proceedings in actions for damages arising therefrom providing for arrest and for service of process and proceeding for violation of this act prescribing the penalties therefor and providing for the disposition of fees collected and fines imposed thereunder" so far as the same relates to traction engines tractors and trailers is hereby repealed

On the question,
Will he House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is known as the "Traction Engine" bill. Like all other business that of the farmer has, during recent years, made vast strides in the use of improved methods with the result that his crops have increased and prosperity has expanded. One of the most useful allies of the up-to-date farmer is the traction engine. It has become a necessity in his business and because of this the number of traction engines has increased in the State of Pennsylvania by leaps and bounds.

The Act of 1913, known as the Motor Vehicle Act, included traction engines within its provisions. That act imposed upon those useful friends of the farmer an excessive tax and prohibitive restrictions, which restrictions had they been in force by the Highway Department would have prevented the operation of a vast number of traction engines and seriously impaired the work of the farmer. The Highway Commissioner was compelled to modify the rigor of this unfortunate law by executive proclamation. There is no statute more imperatively needed at the present time than the proposed one now before you. In a measure of this character there are two essential considerations that must be observed. First, the rights of the traction engine user, and second, the rights of the people who pay for the upkeep of the roads. There can be no question that the nonusers of traction engines are entitled to protection against the negligent and wanton use of heavy vehicles, which if thoughtlessly and recklessly driven, may do great damage to the roads and bridges.

The very efficient sub-committee, to which this bill was entrusted and over which the distinguished gentleman from Wyoming, Mr. Herman, presided, has handled this delicate question admirably, by the insertion of judicious amendments into this bill the sub-committee has done full justice to the traction engine user and at the same time has amply and well provided for the protection of the highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The present act has been approved by the Pensylvania Threshermen's and Farmers' Protective Association, and by the manufacturers of machinery doing business in the State of Pennsylvania. The former organization comprises a membership of about fifteen hundred members, consisting of threshermen from all parts of the State. In addition it has the support of thousands of farmers in many of these sections, in which the various threshermen operate. This act has been drawn up by a committee of three, two of them appointed by the Pensylvania Threshermen's organization and one from the manufacturers.

Mr. Speaker, we ask in the name of the Threshermen that this act be passed particularly in order that traction engines may be properly classified, which is not the case in the present law. The two classes are vastly different. The first class comprises freighting engines, used for heavy hauling and the second class the agricultural engine, which is very little on the road. I hardly feel that it is necesary for me to point out the changes made by the present bill over the existing law regarding traction engines, but I will read you one short paragraph which, in substance, will explain the essential difference.

The fees for registration in the present act are ten dollars for engines up to twenty thousand pounds, and twenty dollars for engines over twenty thousand pounds. The new act specifies a fee of five dollars for engines of the first class,—that is farmers' engines—and ten dollars for freighting engines, or engines of the second clas. In the dealers' class, the fee is now ten dollars for each registration. The new act provides ten dollars for the first registration and two dollars for each additional registration to the same dealer. The present act says that traction engines must not weigh over 26,000 pounds, nor be over one hundred inches in width, which is an impossible restriction. The new act or the present bill allows engines of the first class to weigh 28,000 pounds, and to be one hundred and ten inches wide. The second class can be one hundred and ten inches wide and weigh up to 32,000 pounds, and there are a number of other changes which I shall not bore the House with to explain at this time.

Mr. Speaker, of all the professions, there is none more worthy and none that should receive our most thorough and our best consideration as that pertaining to the farmer. The farmer is the fountain head, or one of the principal fountain heads of all wealth in the State of Pennsylvania, as well as in other States, and when he comes to this Legislature and asks for remedial legislation, when he asks for legislation which is going to help him in his business, that is going to help him cultivate his fields and garner his crops, his requests should be listened to with the greatest respect, and we should if we are able, try to give him what he asks when what he asks is reasonable.

We have in the past favored movements of "Back to the Farm." When we harass the farmer by injudicious legislation, when we prohibit the farmer from the free use of that machinery that makes for better cultivation of his land, we hamper the farmer and we impede the progress of the agricultural interests and our cry of "Back to the Farm" is but empty words. Let us therefore consider to-day that this act is merely an act that is going to help the farmer, who constitutes one of the most important classes in the State of Pennsylvania, in the facilitation of his business, and in so doing it cannot help but facilitate the business of every man in the Commonwealth.

Mr. HERMAN. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that I was chairman of the committee before which this bill came, and that I had a good deal to do with the farmers, it is only fair that I state that the bill as it is at the present time is a great improvement over the one we enacted into law in 1913. Now, the farmers ask us to give them a classification of traction engines and we have done so,—at least the committee did—to the extent of thirteen tons. The bill was amended on the floor of the House to be fourteen tons. Now gentlemen, you want to remember that these engines, with these weights that are given here, is the gross weight, the weight of the engine when loaded with fuel and water. Under the old act,—the act that is the law at the present time, the weights that were given were the net weights, and as soon as a farmer bought a machine that was billed at the weight specified and loaded it with coal and water, they exceeded that weight, and in that way they were unable to run those engines over the road under the present law. There is no doubt, Mr. Speaker there should be some limitation to the weight of an engine on our roads, and when we came to consider that fact we communicated with all the State Highway Commissioners in the United States and as a result of those communications we received thirty-five replies from as many State Highway Commissioners and they also bore us out, with no exception, in the fact that there should be some limit to the weight. Consequently, gentlemen, we put the limit of weight at sixteen tons, or thirty-two thousand pounds, which we thought was reasonable. Gentlemen, I would not have bothered you this morning with my talk whatever had it not been that last week a bill that I introduced in this House for the farmers in the southern part of this State, which did not affect the farmers of my county, was vetoed by the Governor, a bill which removed the local tax on traction engines. It was thought when this bill was introduced in the House, to ask that the license tax be reduced, providing that measure was sanctioned by the Governor but the Governor, in his wisdom, vetoed the measure and as a consequence the traction engine people to-day are assessed a local tax, a State tax and a license on traction engines.

Gentlemen, that seems to me to be unfair and I hope that the House will pass this bill, that they will send it over to the Senate and that the Senate will see fit to remedy the wrong that I think exists in the matter of taxation in this bill.

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say a word on this bill, as regards the farmers agricultural engine. I am a farmer myself and I operated a traction engine for fifteen years myself and know something about the hardship of a thresher. The Automobile Law of 1913 placed the farmer's traction engine, or agricultural engine, in the automobile class, placing restrictions upon them that utterly tied them up. We want this law placed to place them in a class of their own. The farmers have large interests. The agricultural engine is a community engine, owned by three or four farmers sometimes. It only moves on the public highways when compelled to, going from one farm to the other, commencing in the season at from the first to the tenth of July. They are used for threshing grain and later on they are used for building silos and threshing clover seed. They are principally used in the season when the roads are good and solid, but with the law of 1913, with the restrictions upon them they were almost compelled to abandon the business. The farmers have large interests and the agricultural interests of Pennsylvania are immense, therefore, I feel we should sustain the farmer and give him a square deal with regard to the agricultural engines.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1369, entitled:

An Act requiring a written demand for a jury trial in actions at law in the several courts of common pleas of this Commonwealth by either party thereto regulating the procedure of trials at law by a judge without a jury authorizing the several courts of common pleas of this Commonwealth and the Supreme Court to adopt rules for regulating the procedure under this act and regulating appeals from judgments

On the question
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I raise a constitutional question on this bill. I will state that it violates a clause in the Constitution which says "trials by jury shall as heretofore remain inviolate." All trials by jury, heretofore, under the construction of the Constitution of 1874, is granted. In this instance in this bill this puts a certain limitation upon that right and I raise that constitutional question.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, this act was prepared for me by certain lawyers in Philadelphia who wanted to have applied to our Common Pleas Court the same rule on this subject that is now applied to our Municipal Court. I may say as to the constitutionality of this particular act, there can be no question, because it is substantially the same act, the same rule, that is now in force in our Municipal Court in Philadelphia which has been construed and declared constitutional by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. This act is an act of some importance; it is a lawyer's act but it is a good act which is of importance in practice. The purpose of the act is to render less expensive trials of cases and to enable them to be diposed of more quickly. As most men know the expense in connection with trials by jury is the expense of keeping a jury in court and we believe that a great majority of the cases that are to-day being tried by juries might just as well be tried without the jury. We believe if this rule is adopted a great many of the litigants will agree to have their cases tried by the judge without the service of a jury, and that the county will be saved the expense of paying for a jury panel. We believe that the jury can be dispensed with in a great many cases and a great many more cases be disposed of in much less time. The proposed act does not limit the right of trial by jury. If either party to a suit wants his case tried by a jury all he has to do is to write on the pleadings of the case the three words "jury trial demanded" and that ends it, and the case will be tried by a jury. The act does not provide that one man can force upon another a trial by the court without a jury. If either man in the suit wants his case tried by a jury he gets it by writing on his pleadings "jury trial demanded." I hope the members of this House will vote for this bill because it is a good bill. It will save the counties a whole lot of money by getting rid of the expense of a jury and we will get rid of our cases much more quickly.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Palmer, insist upon his point of order?

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

The SPEAKER. The question is upon the point of order raised by Mr. Palmer, of Schuylkill, that the act is unconstitutional. The Chair will submit the question to the House. Those in favor of sustaining the point of order say "aye" and those opposed "no."

The point of order was not sustained.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1262, entitled:

> An Act to amend an act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred thirty-six entitled "An Act relating to roads highways and bridges"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, will the sponsor of this bill kindly explain it to show how the working of the old law will be changed?

Mr. GIBSON. This bill simply provides the same procedure for laying out a road between two counties as is now provided for laying out a road along a county line.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1040, entitled:

An Act relating to building and loan associations and the solicitors officers directors and stockholders thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title by striking out the words "solicitors" and "stockholders"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, is discussion of the bill in order?

The SPEAKER. It is.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the purpose of this bill is to protect the stockholders of all building and loan associations from a practice which has grown up all over the State of Pennsylvania—a practice which I think every man here will agree with me is wrong in; principle and wrong in practice The average building association in the State of Pennsylvania is a one or two-man affair. As a rule, the Board of Directors in passing upon loans act upon the advice of one or two men. Those one or two men are usually real estate men. They are men who have some peculiar knowledge of real estate values, and because of that knowledge and because of that experience which they have gained in a business way, their advice is usually taken by the board of directors in passing upon applications for loans. Now, gentlemen, there has arisen a practice in the State of Pennsylvania by which those men on the board of directors have been accepting a commission for the placing of loans in their own associations. In other words, the men of influence on the board of directors receiving an application from a friend or a client, he is willing to make that application to his building association and will use his influence to have it accepted and passed by the board and will receive from the applicant a commission for these services. Now, gentlemen, I feel, and I think you will all agree with me that this is a wrong thing to do. It encourages the board of directors in passing loans which are not of a safe nature. You men can readily see that if a board of directors have under consideration two loans, one of which is of an absolutely safe nature, and one of which is of a shaky nature, the man who is asking for the shaky loan will be willing to pay a commission, and if he is allowed to pay that commission, the men who vote on the loan, it is an encouragement to them to prefer the loan which is not well secured to the loan which is well secured. It seems absurd, gentlemen, for me to speak on this matter at length, and I merely want to call to your attention another analogy. Suppose, for a moment, that a trust company were to allow its investigating committee, the committee that investigates loans,—suppose that company were to allow that committee to receive fees from the applicant. There could only be one result from it, and that would be that the stockholders of the trust company would suffer. Now, gentlemen, we ought to apply to building associations the same business rules that we would apply to any other kind of a corporation.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that the gentleman's amendment merely strikes out two words in the title.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that it does not make sense as it now reads. Another word will have to be inserted.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent under those circumstances to withdraw the amendment and make the statement now to the House that I will have these amendments which I have tried to make at this time, made in the Senate.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the withdrawal of the amendments as offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Graham? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendments will be withdrawn.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1172 (Senate Bill No. 489), entitled:

An Act to authorize the City of Williamsport to acquire if necessary and in all events to maintain for the purpose of securing and improving the general sanitary conditions of said city the dam which was erected by the Susquehanna Boom Company across the west branch of the Susquehanna river at a point near the intersection of Hepburn street with said river in said city

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I want to say a few words in behalf of this bill. I am interested in its passage because I know pretty well the conditions which prevail in that city. This bill was introduced by Senator Sones, of Williamsport, and it merely asks for the passage of an act which enables that city to maintain a good-sized water front. We well know how much that has beautified the City of Harrisburg and the City of Wilkes-Barre, and has also enabled the city to maintain healthful and sanitary conditions in the business section; and, gentlemen, I believe that if you men are in favor of a brighter and better municipality you will vote in favor of this bill.

VENDOR'S RIGHTS.

Section 8 Upon the breach of the said conditions or any of them by the conditional vendee the conditional vendor may after five days' written notice to the conditional vendee his agent or attorney of his intention so to do (unless the provisions of said contract are before complied with) repossess himself of the property so conditionally sold or delivered but the same is not to be taken out of the county in which it then is within fifty days after such taking

Said notice shall name the amount due and owing on said contract and shall be served personally upon the conditional vendee or his successor in interest if he is within the county where the sale is to be held and if not within such county or he cannot be found therein such notice must be mailed to him at his last known place of residence

Should the conditional vendee demand it by written notice properly served on the conditional vendor his agent or attorney within ten days after such taking it shall be the duty of the conditional vendor his agent or attorney after thirty days and not more than forty days after such taking to cause such property to be exposed at public sale at a convenient place in the county where located after giving notice by publication once a week for three successive weeks in one newspaper published in the county and by at least ten printed or written hand bills posted in public and conspicuous places in the vicinity where the sale is to take place

At such sale the conditional vendor may become the purchaser if he is the highest and best bidder

The proceeds of the sale shall be distributed first to the costs and expenses incident to the sale secondly to the debt secured and lastly the surplus if any shall be paid over to the conditional vendee his executors administrators or assigns any time before sale had the conditional vendee or his successors in interest shall have the right to redeem said property by complying with the terms of such contract and paying the legal costs then accrued as herein provided

On the question,

Will the House agre to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend House Bill No. 1193, File Folio 6669, by adding after the word "stock" in line 19, section 2, "or to any persons, firms of corporations engaged in the business of selling house furnishings."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill, as amended, was then agreed to on third reading.

Ordered, That the bill, as amended, lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1156 entitled:

An Act granting to parties litigant in cases involving the reasonableness of the rates or regulations of the adequacy of the services or facilities furnished or offered by public service corporations in this State the right to examine the accounts books papers records vouchers letters contracts memoranda and documents and to enter upon and examine the properties of said public service corporation or corporations

Said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. GLENN. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. GEISER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1069, entitled:

An Act requiring railroads to remove grade crossings and providing penalties

Said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RINN. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen, I ask the indulgence of this House for a few moments to enable me to say a few words in behalf of this bill. The "Safety First" propaganda is being spread all over the country and a campaign of education is being waged in its behalf. It is a splendid idea. Any cause that aims to conserve human life should be encouraged, and the State Legislature should take the lead in this matter. Among those who are enlisting under the Safety First banner are the railroad corporations of this State. However, they are confining their efforts to giving instructions to the people. The railroad companies are to be commended for their idea so far as it goes, but it does not go far enough. They are willing that their patrons shall be educated in the matter of taking precautionary measures to prevent accidents but they should be willing to demonstrate their sincerity by eliminating the deadly grade crossings which have claimed their thousands and their tens of thousands of victims in the past and will claim more.

Until the railroad companies abolish these death traps, their cries of safety first are inconsistent. Mr. Speaker, the railroad companies should show a willingness to practice what they preach. This bill only asks the railroad companies to eliminate the grade crosings gradually throughout this Commonwealth. The railroad grade crossings, gentlemen, were deadly fifty years ago when trains were run at a speed of eighteen to twenty miles per hour and when only one conveyance or pedestrian crossed the track where fifty cross them now, and when trains are run from forty to seventy-five miles an hour, and I have been told they run even up to eighty-four miles an hour.

The result is that grade crossing accidents increase in number each year because we have not applied the safety first idea to these death traps. The grade crossing, gentlemen, is no resepcter of class. It devours rich and poor alike. To-day it may be a friendless wanderer; to-morrow it may be a man who can be illy spared in the community. Mr. Speaker, I have in mind at this time the case of a citizen, the father of a member of the staff of the Governor of Pennsylvania, and also one of the Justices of the Superior Court of this State. This grand old man, a man of spotless character a man whose every act in life was measured by the Golden Rule, and whose life was devoted to the uplift of humanity, a man who did things for his community and his State, fell a victim to a grade crossing, one of the most dangerous in this Commonwealth, which happens to be in the district which I represent.

At this same crossing a young man who was regarded as one of the best poultry judges of the United States, fell into this trap and was killed. But little more than a week ago a professional man and his wife, from Allentown, narrowly escapeed death at another crossing. Gentlemen, there is not a member of this House, if he reflects but a few moments, who cannot fail to recall accidents of a similar nature in his own community. The same story is told every day in various parts of this Commonwealth, and all because we have failed to do our duty.

In Europe there are no grade crossings. Other States have been most progressive in this respect while we have stood still and watched the slaughter go on. There are no grade crosings from New York to Boston. It is expected that grade crossings will be abolished between Jersey City and Philadelphia by the next year. All grade crossings have been abolished between Pittsburgh and Wilkinsburg. Gentlemen, this is the way they handle grade crossings in New Jersey.

Fifteen Crossings Must Go.

Order Made to Erie Railroad on Complaint From Paterson.

Special Telegram to the Public Ledger.

Trenton, April 24.—Elimination of fifteen grade crossings in the City of Paterson by the Erie Railroad, to be completed within the next year, has been ordered by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners. The Board of Finance of Paterson made the application to the Board to have the crossings eliminated."

Mr. Speaker, where are we in Pensylvania? It is time for the State of Pensylvania to compel the railroads to remove these death traps, so as to avoid further slaughter of precious human lives. This bill is not drastic. It is not unjust to the railroads. It simply calls for something which must be done sooner or later, and the quicker it is done the better. Mr. Speaker, all over this State the people are waiting to see what the Legislature will do in regard to this bill. If the same is passed, you can rest assured that the people will give us credit for passing this law and further, I believe that we will receive the blessing of Almighty God.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows, viz:

In the Senate, April 27, 1915.

Whereas, In compliance with a concurrent resolution approved May twelve, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, a commission of five persons was appointed by the Governor on December twentieth, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, to investigate and examine the various law in effect in the different states relating to the recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, the insurance of titles, and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonweaith as to insure the best system of recording; and,

Whereas, The said commission made a second report to the present Legislature, recommending an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and also recommending that the commission shall be continued, because, in order that the relief needed may be effected, questions of great importance will have to be carefully and exhaustively considered, but the membership of the commission was left to the discretion of the present Legislature; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the commission to investigate and examine the various laws in effect in the various states relating to the recording of deeds, mortgages, the transfer of lands, insurance of titles and the practical operation of such laws, and to propose such changes in the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth as to insure the best system of recording, be authorized to continue its work, and make report and recommendations to the next General Assembly in one thousand nine hundred and seventeen; and that the expenses therefor be limited to five thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, and that the same be provided for in the next general appropriation bill; and be it further

Resolved, That all the powers conferred upon said commission under resolution of May twelfth one thousand nine hundred and eleven authorizing the appointment of said commission, are hereby continued.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Ordered, To lie over for printing.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1498 as follows:

An Act regulating poor districts comprising the territory constituting the whole or part of a second class city

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any portion of a city of the second class comprising not more than one ward thereof and constituting part of a poor district other than the poor district of which the remaining portion of said second class city is a part is hereby made a part of said poor district of which the major portion of the city is a part and the poor board of said poor district comprising the major portion of the city shall exercise full power and supervision over said added part

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Luxemberger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LUXEMBERGER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir, I will.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know whether the sponsor has advertised this bill as special legislation.

Mr. LUXEMBERGER. Mr. Speaker, it does not require to be advertised This bill relates to first and second class cities.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentlemen will state his point of order.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I contend that this bill is unconstitutional in that it has not been advertised, and is special legislation for the Pittston Poor District.

The SPEAKER. This bill takes in all second class cities.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill should be defeated. It attempts to take away from the Jenkins-Pittston Poor District the Twenty-Second Ward and adding it to the City of Scranton. This belongs to the Pittston Poor District, and if this is taken away from the Pittston Poor District it brings a hardship on that district which is not so flourishing as the City of Scranton, and the burden of taxation will then fall upon three boroughs in my district, Taylor, Old Forge and Moosic. This is unfair. The directors of the Pittston Poor District are opposed to this bill from the fact that they have not been given warning, and contend that it is not right to put a bill of this kind through at this time. Inasmuch as the Governor has vetoed the other bill which contained the Twenty-Second Ward should be an indication that this bill should not be passed by this House. I ask the gentlemen of this House to vote down the bill. It brings upon the people of my district an imposition which they do not care to bear.

Mr. W. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, at one time this Twenty-Second Ward was a portion of Lackawanna township, and at that time Lackawanna township was a portion of this poor district Now they have taken that ward into the City of Scranton and they feel as if it really belonged to that poor district and that both ought to be under one head and they think they ought to have the poor district. The bill is all right and should be voted for.

On the question recurring.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE NON-CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced informed that the Senate has non-concurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

House Bill No. 331.

An Act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions.

Said bill having been recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment. The votes had on final passage and third reading were reconsidered in the House of Representatives and the bill amended, in which amendments the Senate has non-concurred.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move you that we insist on the amendments and that a conference committee be appointed.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1354, as follows:

An Act relating to taxing as part of the costs in a cause an attorney's fee for the successful party upon appeals to the Supreme and Superior Courts

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in all cases either in law or in equity wherein an appeal is taken from any judgment decree or order to the Supreme Court or the Superior Court the party in whose favor the final decision is rendered shall be entitled to a charge and collect from the losing party as part of the costs in the cause an attorney's fee of fifty dollars on all appeals to the Supreme Court and twenty-five dollars on all appeals to the Superior Court said amounts to be taxed and collected in the same manner as costs are now taxed and collected by law

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain the provisions thereof.

Mr. GRAHAM. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill provides that when an appeal is taken from a judgment entered in the Court of Common Pleas either to the Superior Court or to the Supreme Court the party losing on the appeal must pay as part of the costs an attorney's fee. On the case of an appeal to the Superior Court that attorney's fee is fixed at twenty-five dollars; on the case of an appeal to the Supreme Court that fee is fixed at fifty-dollars.

Now we feel gentlemen, that when a man brings a lawsuit in the Court of Common Pleas and tries his case out and wins it and the other side takes an appeal and imposes the delay on him of several months, requires him to pay an additional attorney's fee, requires him to have the record printed and requires him to have his case argued again in the Appellate Court, we feel that that man should be compensated for the additional expenses that he has been put to. Understand, gentlemen, this fee is paid to the winning side. It has a double purpose; not only do we think it is only just that the man who wins should be compensated for the extra expense he has been put to, but we feel that unnecessary appeals should be discouraged. A large percentage of the appeals which are taken to the Superior and Supreme Court are taken for the purpose purely of delay. The proof of that is, gentlemen, that a great many of the appeals taken are never argued.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1517, as follows:

An Act imposing a tax for State purposes on the capital stock of manufacturing and laundering corporations and appropriating and dedicating the same to the maintenance and construction of State highways

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That every foreign and domestic corporation organized for manufacturing or laundering purposes or engaged in manufacturing or laundering shall be subject to and pay a tax of one (1) mill upon each dollar of the actual value of its capital stock as is invested in and actually engaged in carrying on manufacturing or laundering within this Commonwealth

Section 2 Every such corporation shall make report to the Auditor General upon forms to be prepared by the Auditor General as other corporations are now required by law to make capital stock reports and the said tax hereby imposed shall be assessed and levied in the same manner as the capital stock tax is now assessed and levied upon other corporations

Section 3 The moneys derived from time to time from the tax collected under the provisions of this act are hereby permanently dedicated to the construction maintenance improvement and repair of State highways and shall be kept in a special fund for such purpose in the State Treasury separate and apart from the general revenues of the Commonwealth The State Treasurer and his bondsmen shall be responsible for the safe keeping and accounting for said fund in the same manner and under the same penalties as for the safe keeping and accounting for other revenues of the Commonwealth The State Treasurer shall on the first business day of each and every month certify to the State Highway Commission the money in said fund available for the use of the State Highway Department and the State Treasurer and Auditor General shall credit one-half of the amount so certified as available to an account for the construction and improvement of State highways and the other one-half to an account for the maintenance and repair of

State highways When so certified by the State Treasurer the funds shall be available for requisition and expenditure and shall be requisitioned and expended settled and vouched as provided by the general laws for the funds appropriated from the general revenues of the Commonwealth This act shall go into effect on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and sixteen and shall not effect the exemption to manufacturing corporations on capital stock tax for the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen

Section 5 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. McCURDY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1029, File Folio 3497, from Page 19 of to-day's calendar, Bills on Final Passage Postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1029, entitled:

An Act conferring authority on street passenger railway companies and motor power or other companies lawfully operating lines of street passenger railways to own lease and operate lines of self-propelled omnibuses in connection with their street railway systems

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WHITAKER. Mr. Speaker, the demand for efficient passenger conveyance, rapid and cheap conveyance, has grown so rapidly in the last year or so, that as you all know jitney and all other sorts of conveyances are growing rapidly to meet that demand. This bill is for the purpose of enabling the trolley companies that now exist,—giving those companies the corporate power to own and operate jitneys, or omnibuses, or automobiles, or whatever you choose to call them. There are so many cases where small lines of trolleys do not meet when they come into a municipality, and the companies are unable to get their trolley lines on the streets of the municipality, and it is for the benefit of those companies and for efficient service to the public that these companies desire the corporate right to own and operate omnibuses, to connect the lines which do not physically connect, and to furnish feeders for the lines within the smaller municipalities of the Commonwealth.

This bill, if it becomes a law, will not interfere in any way with the growing business of the jitneys. It will not give the trolley companies any exclusive rights and its only purpose is to give them the corporate power, which they do not now possess, of owing and operating these lines.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1432 (Senate No. 125), entitled:

An Act amending and supplementing sections one and two of an act entitled "An Act for the promotion of medical science by the distribution and use of unclaimed human bodies for scientific purposes through a board created for that purpose and to prevent unauthorized uses and traffic in human bodies" approved June thirteenth one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three by providing that the name of said board of distribution shall be Anatomical Board of the State of Pennsylvania by extending its provisions to all persons having charge or control over bodies required to be buried at the public expense by requiring immediate notice of the death of any person required to be buried at the public expense by requiring notice in all cases but providing that there shall not be delivered to the board created under the act the bodies of deceased indigent persons where claimed by relatives within twenty-four hours after death for interment at the expense of the claimant or the bodies of honorably discharged soldiers sailors or marines who have served the United States in any war or who were in active service in the militia of the State of Pennsylvania under and in pursuance of any of the proclamations issued by the Governor during the Civil War and not duly mustered into the service of the United States by repealing the provisions as to deceased indigent travelers by providing for the burial at the expense of the county of indigent persons unfit for anatomical purposes upon the certificate of the board of its duly authorized officer or agent that such bodies are unfit for anatomical purposes or are the bodies of soldiers sailors or marines required to be buried at the public expense and that the provisions of this act have been complied with by providing that no warrants for payment of expenses of burial shall be drawn or paid except upon such certificate by providing for the burial of bodies rendered unfit for anatomical purposes by the failure to comply with the provisions of this act at the expense of the person failing to comply with its provisions

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I want to raise a question here as to a man's sincerity in asking for the postponement of this bill.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, the probabilities are that the apprehension of Mr. Steedle is unfounded. This afternoon we got word from the Senate that the author of this bill is desirous of having it postponed for the present. I would state that what Dr. Steedle is going to say is this: That when this bill came out of committee in consideration of action on a previous bill that we were all committed to vote for it. In order to find out from the author of the bill, with whom we cannot get in touch now, we move to have it postponed for the present and this is the purpose of the motion.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that this motion is not debatable but we will waive that rule on this motion.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I have no doubt whatever in regard to the sincerity of the gentlemen from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol. I have always found him to be a gentleman of honor and to keep his word. I can assure him that my position is prompted only through that fact that I thought there was a probability at hand here to smother this bill. There was a mutual agreement between myself and Mr. Thomas, who was the sponsor of a bill of a similar nature, that we would consider both bills. If Senator Gerberich has been satisfied to have this bill postponed then I am satisfied to go along, but as we have no word from Senator Gerberich to that effect I think this bill should be made a special order on the calendar for a special day.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to the postponing of this bill. I have talked with Senator Gerberich and we have agreed to have an amendment inserted but if this is made a special order this amendment should be in before the specified time given for the consideration of the bill. I should like to have the gentleman withdraw his motion in order that this amendment may be inserted.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, the idea of making this motion at this time was because we didn't think Mr. Steedle was in the room and we did it for the reason that we thought he was going to say something on the bill.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I want to adhere to the parliamentary practice of this House. If Senator Gerberich has been so kind as to consider the suggestion of the gentleman from Columbia, Mr. C. A. Shaffer, I suggest that Mr. Thomas, the maker of that motion to postpone, withdraw it and allow Mr. Shaffer's amendment to be inserted in the bill which is only fair to all parties concerned.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Thomas, withdraw his motion.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. C. A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to insert an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 2, line 96, after the word "of" by omitting the word "twenty" and substituting the word "thirty-first"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instruction of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 19, Bills on Final Passage Postponed, House Bill No. 868.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 868, entitled:

An Act to regulate the operation of motor vehicles for public use in the transportation of persons and the issuance of licenses therefor to prescribe the qualifications of the owners and drivers or operators thereof to define certain rights and duties and fixing penalties for the violation of this act and to provide revenue from the operation of such vehicles for the maintenance of streets and highways

On the question,

BILL STRUCK FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, This is known as the "Jitney Bus" bill. There has been other legislation enacted which covers a large part of the provisions of this bill which takes care of the regulation of jitney busses, which is desired, and as there are other bills which will cover this point I move that this bill be stricken from the calendar.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1268, entitled:

An Act to amend the second section of an act approved the eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled "An Act relating to milk providing for the protection of the public health and the prevention of fraud and deception by regulating the sale of milk skimmed milk and cream providing penalties for the violation thereof and providing for the enforcement thereof"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Drinkhouse, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DRINKHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to be the intention of this bill to permit the adding of milk to cream in eating houses. According to the second section of this bill "in any hotel or restaurant or eating house it shall be lawful to use cream to which is added milk or evaporated milk or condensed milk if such cream is used only for the purpose of serving with coffee chocolate or other beverages." I take it, gentlemen, in view of that whether it does not permit the selling of cream, which is not cream, under the Act of Assembly. I should like to have the sponsor explain the bill.

Mr. DRINKHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, this bill gives light lunch cafes the privilege of adding milk to cream for the purpose of being served with apple dumpling or rice pudding or anything of that sort, but does not permit them to sell it or remove it from the premises.

On the question, recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

An Act exempting agricultural corporations from the payment of a bonus and of State taxes upon their capital stock was defeated on third reading to-day be reconsidered.

Mr. HARPER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the nays seemed to have it.

And the question was determined in the negative.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1330, as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, line 3, by striking out the word "association" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "associations"

Line 3, by striking out the word "company" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "companies"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted, in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 949 (Senate Bill No. 432), entitled:

An Act to repeal an act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirteen entitled "An Act for the protection of the public health and the prevention of fraud and deception by regulating the storage and sale of cold storage foods fixing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof and providing for the enforcement thereof"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker a more unfair proposition has not come before this House for its consideration during this session. In order that the members may intelligently understand the situation and the purpose of the bill now under consideration, I desire to take a few minutes of the time of the House to explain the cold storage situation as I understand it in this State.

In the session of 1913, there was enacted by the Legislature, and signed by the Governor, a Cold Storage Law which this bill purposes to repeal. There were held before the Health and Sanitation Committee of the House and the Health and Sanitation Committee of the Senate numerous hearings upon various bills dealing with the question of cold storage, which were then pending before the Legislature. As a result the various bills were turned over to the hands of a sub-committee of the Health and Sanitation Committee of the House, and the present existing cold storage law of 1913 is the outgrowth of consultations had upon this question, and deliberations by that sub-committee and the main committee, as well as both branches of the Legislature.

Conditions as they existed then in this State, and I speak particularly with reference to the city from which I come, were horrible in the extreme. It had been the custom for men engaged in the business of cold storage to store goods, that which we use as food in times of plenty, and to continue that storage for an indefinite period. In many instances those periods of storage extended for a considerable length of time beyond a season or a year. At the hearings before the Committees of both the House and Senate on the proposed bill, in answer to questions put by members of the Committee, those who appeared in opposition to the bill, which was frankly admitted by cold storage operators, that to store eggs, and butter in particular, for a period longer than the first of January following the time the goods were placed in storage was done for speculative purposes. And the reason for that was admitted to be this, that when the so-called "April egg" was stored, either in April when collected, or the forepart of May, that storage warehouses had a certain season in which they carried those goods, as well as butter which was stored in June, down to the first of January following at so much per one hundred pounds of butter, and so much per crate of eggs, irrespective as to the time when they were placed in storage. The financial institutions in Philadelphia, most notably the Corn Exchange National Bank, which has been one of the Prime movers back of this bill which is before this House for its consideration, financed those operations, so that if a crate of eggs costing six dollars was placed in a cold storage plant, the majority of those plants in Philadelphia, at least, being controlled by the same financial interests which controlled the Corn Exchange National Bank, would advance as a loan upon, that crate of eggs the sum of five dollars; but that loan was subject to call and had to be paid because it extended only until the first of the following January. Immediately upon the first of January's arrival, if the dealer decided, by reason of weather conditions or by reason of a desire to take a gamble upon what the spring market would be, to allow his goods to remain in storage, he either had to pay that loan or a bonus for carrying it further, and in addition paid a storage charge of so much per dozen or per pound per month, so that all of those interested in this business admitted that after the first day of January it was unwise for them to continue the storing of those goods, unless by foresight, by looking into what the weather conditions of the spring were going to be, a forewarning of which was given to those engaged in the business by the early spring which took place in the South and Southwest, where the fresh eggs at that time of the year come from and the fresh butter, would by paying these additional charges, if the weather conditions permitted it, would permit these goods to remain in storage, if it were a late spring here, and it looked as if the hens nearby were not going to lay as early as they had theretofore, and thereby take advantage of the rise in the market.

In Philadelphia that condition was controlled then, as today, and I am advised the same conditions existed in Pittsburgh, by what is known as the Butter and Egg Board. At eleven o'clock of every day, that Butter and Egg Board, which consisted of men engaged in this business, would meet and they would sit around the table and they would deal in these foodstuffs the same as stocks were dealt with in stock exchanges. They would buy and they would sell among themselves. They would go long and they would go short, and at the close of an hour or an hour and a half's deliberation on the dealings and the manipulations between themselves that Butter and Egg Board would establish what the market price of those food stuffs would be for the following day, and that quotation would be given to the trade papers, and that was the quotation by which the consuming public was bound to go when they wanted to purchase these commodities and these food stuffs.

Now the purpose of the act of 1913 was not to drive out of business the men who were engaged in the cold storage of food stuffs or men whose interests were allied with them; but it was for the purpose of so regulating, if possible, this industry which has grown up in this State so that proper regulations would be thrown about that business and, in so far as it was possible for a legislative body to do, to eliminate the speculative feature of that industry. After the hardest kind of a battle this Act of 1913 was passed and signed and it provided, among other things, that the regulation of this business should be placed in the hands of the Dairy and Food Commissioner. It required cold storage plants to take out a license. It required those engaged in the business to mark the date on which the goods were stored and the date on which the goods were released from storage. It placed a time limit upon which goods could be kept in storage. I want to say now for the benefit of this House that the time limits then placed in that bill were placed in there after repeated hearings, after some people who were engaged in this particular line of business admitted that the time limits were reasonable and proper and that it would check to a large degree the speculative feature of dealing in food stuffs; and this bill then became a law. Subsequently, the shoe started to pinch but it did not pinch the consuming public's foot; but it did pinch some of our friends who were engaged in this business and some of the financial interests that were backing them, so much so that they saw some of the abnormal profits which were made upon commodities of this kind, dwindling away. They saw that they were unable to do as they had been able to do in the past,—take cold storage products out of cold storage and sell them to the consuming public for fresh products at fresh prices, wihch was a common thing in the City of Philadelphia and elsewhere in this State; and thereupon they started this agitation against the existing cold storage law; and the Corn Exchange National Bank followed a system of campaign which was followed by the railroad companies in this State in their efforts to repeal the Full Crew Bill. They communicated with their depositors, and they have many of them,—and this House, in the course of this session, has received letters from iron merchants, from men engaged in the tea and coffee business, from men engaged in the shoe business, from men engaged in nearly every business known to Pennsylvania; but few letters from those engaged in the business of cold storage, asking them to consider a so-called uniform cold storage law which was introduced into this session of the legislature to give them relief. They complained about the drastic features of the existing law. They said, in their arguments, that the existing law had not worked well; that it had been of no benefit to the consumer; that as a result of this law being put upon the statute books it would mean the taking out of cold storage at the time of the greatest scarcity that which was put in there at the time of the greatest plenty; that all of it would then be consumed; that there would be no fresh products with which to meet the demands of the consumers; that the price therefor for these commodities, by reason of this existing law, instead of being kept at a low ebb would soar to the dollar mark and that the poor public would suffer. I have yet to receive any complaint from any member of the poor public decrying the existence of this existing cold storage law but I want to say to the members of this House, and in absolute refutation of the charges made by those who are engaged in this business as to the increased cost of living under the Act of 1913,---I want to refer to their own trade paper, their own trade paper published by themselves which deals with this very question, which deals with this very Act of 1913, and I refer you to the Produce Bulletin which is the recognized trade paper of men engaged in this business throughout this Commonwealth: where, in quoting prices for butter and eggs, it goes to state as follows:

"Besides this decrying of low prices of butter and eggs, besides this, the stringent cold storage laws of this State all work against high prices. It is a hard problem to solve and one that will have to be handled with gloves to make the receivers any money."

Now, that is an utterance from their own trade paper, which is directly opposed to the arguments which are being advanced in favor of this repeal law now before this House for its consideration.

In addition, one other reason, and vital reason, why this bill should not be repealed ,as the result of its being upon the statute book of this Commonwealth I refer now to another newspaper article which states that twenty-four thousand dozen eggs were stored in Philadelphia which were more than two years old, had been held in cold storage for all that length of time, ready at any moment to be sent out upon the unsuspecting public. Now then, gentlemen, what is the problem with which we are confronted on this question? If the Act of 1913 is too drastic in relation to the time limits placed upon these various commodities, is the proper method to correct that evil an absolute repeal law which wipes the Act of 1913 off the statute books with all its regulations, leaving the door open to the frauds which had been universally practiced throughout this Commonwealth under conditions which existed prior to the passage of that law; or is it as these very men have harassed and deluged this Legislature with communications, is the remedy an amending bill, amending the drastic features of the existing law? If those drastic features exist so that we with reason can sit down and meet them upon their own common ground and say, advance to us the argument and back it up with facts why the time limit should be extended here and why the time limt should be extended there, why this regulation should be wiped out or why this one should be changed; and yet every since this session of the Legislature began that is the very argument that these men have advanced upon this question. In the meetings which were held before the committees having this bill under consideration, why ninety-nine per cent. of the men engaged in this business said to the Committee: "We want regulation; we are not against regulation. We believe that the consuming public ought to know when it is getting cold storage and when it is getting fresh goods; but we think that the existing law is too drastic in some particulars. We think there ought to be uniform legislation in all the States."

We think it should be uniform legislation in all of the States. We think the time limit should be extended. That is what we are here for and that is all we want. What happens? An then comes the legislative trickery, backed by these great interests of this State. In the Senate at this session there was introduced Senate Bill No. 206, commonly known as the Uniform Cold Storage Law, which provided for a season upon commodities of this kind, with the right, if it met with the approval of the Dairy and Food Commissioner, to extend that time limit of one year, for a period of a few months longer, provided, after inspection, the goods were in such condition that the time could so safely be extended.

That is the bill they have been agitating. That bill was introduced in the Senate on the second day of March, and was referred to the Senate Committee on Public Health and Sanitation. It was reported out of committee on the same date, March 2nd. It passed first reading on March 8th; it passed second reading, and mark you this on March 9th, and then was recommitted to the Committee on Health and Sanitation of the Senate. On the same day that so-called uniform Cold Storage Law was recommitted to that Committee, there was introduced in the Senate, the blanket repealer that is now before this House for consideration. It was introduced on the ninth day of March, reported out of committee on the same day, passed first reading on the ninth day of March, passed second reading on the tenth day of March, passed third reading and final passage on the fifteenth day of March, and then was messaged to this House, where it was sent to the Health and Sanitation Committe, and is now before you on third reading. What is the answer to that? Why, gentlemen, it is just as plain as A B C. The so-called Uniform Cold Storge Law was the bait which had been held out to these legislative bodies, the feeler. As soon as the repealer, wiping out all restrictions, comes along, the fishing line is pulled in and the bait with it and stuck down in the can and remains there; and then this repealer is trotted on joyfully on its way through three readings and final passage in the Senate and then over to this House. Why? For the simple reason that there was not one bit of sincerity in the proposition for regulation, in the proposition for just and reasonable time limits, but that every effort was being bent to wipe completely from the Statute books of this State the law of 1913, with all of its best and fine features, so that there would be nothing thrown around this industry to protect the consuming public; so that there would be no safeguards against speculation in foodstuffs. Gentlemen, if you pass this bill, I say to you now that this so-called Uniform Bill will never again see the light of day in the Senate and will never come before you for consideration.

There is only one way to treat this matter, to my mind, and that is for you men to say, as whether in all fairness to the consuming public, whether that public has the right to know what it is getting and paying for; whether or not there should be some restrictions against speculation in this kind of commodity; whether or not you, by your vote on this proposition to-night, will say to the people of Pennsylvania, "we have no regard for you, but we do have regard for those who manipulate in these foodstuffs at the expense of the public," and I implore you men, in all fairness to this proposition, to accept these men at their own word, that they are satisfied with regulation, but that they do complain at some so-called drastic features in the existing law, but that it ought to be amended along those lines; and I want to say for one that if they can show me anything in the existing law which is drastic, I will be the first one to agree to an amendment of that existing law.

But this is absolutely unfair and spells trickery all through its manipulation through these legislative bodies, and I ask you men in all fairness to vote no on this proposition, and if they want to amend the existing law, let them come along with a fair amendment to the bill and we will support it.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I think you will all agree with the gentleman who has preceded me, that our object in being here is not for any particular interest, or to serve any particular side of the question. Our object in being here is to satisfy, if we possibly can, the people of this Commonwealth, and when, gentlemen of the House, an act is passed, as this act was passed in 1913, which is so drastic in its features that it aliminates our citizens and our friends and our men and women in this Commonwealth, it is high time to repeal it. If we are deriving a benefit we should appreciate it, and if we are not deriving a benefit from an Act of Assembly, it should be wiped from our Statutes.

Now, let us in all fairness, wiping aside the feeling of my friend from Philadelphia, because he no doubt has some little feeling in this matter, as it was he who assisted in the passage of the Act of 1913, and he must and we all have some feeling in matters and laws which we have passed now, let us inquire fairly and justly whether or not our people have been benefited by the act of 1913. That act provided, as my friend has said, a certain time allowance for cold storage. That act, as you know, and I know, controlled every citizen of this State, irrespective of whether he was in the cold storage business, or carrying on his household, it made no difference. And why then should we ask for a repealer? Because our citizens were bound by a hard and fast act, and the citizens of the adjoining Commonwealths and business men thereof, could send into our State any amount of stuff, be it eggs or butter or what-not, in cold storage, no matter how long and sell it to you and me, and you did not know the difference, because you had no way of determining it.

You who are citizens, you who are business men, you who are storekeepers, aye, you who are farmers, were bound by a law which held us in check and did not hold one other State adjacent to us. That is the reason for this repealer, and no other. You can talk trickery if you like, and make such allegations as you care to, but are we going to be fair to our own people? And what resulted in our own State? Do you imagine for one instant that the business man engaged in the cold storage business, or in any other business, was carrying it on at a loss? Oh, no. When their goods remain too long under our laws, to be sold in our State, they sent that out of the State and it was sold in other States, and other States sent their output to be sold in our State.

Now, gentlemen, are we going to have an act of Assembly, which ties us down hand and foot and says to other States adjacent to us, you can send in whatever you like, but we are bound by it. And suppose for an instant that you repeal this act. My friend would have you suppose that you wipe out all existing laws in reference to pure foods and the various stuffs such as eggs and butter sold to you. Not by any means. You are then guided by the Act of 1909, passed in this House, which gives the Commissioner the opportunity and the right to go into any man's store and investigate, as he has the right to do under the law and then to determine whether or not the goods there are fit for sale. I submit to you gentlemen that this repeal should go through, because after this act was passed, the Governor of our State appointed a commission to make an investigation as to whether or not this was a good feasible act, and if I am correctly informed, from reading their report, a portion of which I had before me to-night, that Commission agrees that this act is particularly inoperative, so far as the welfare of our citizens is concerned, and that is all we are interested in.

Therefore, I ask you to vote for the repeal of the act of 1913.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, a reference has been made to a Commission that was appointed to investigate the conditions of cold storage. I had the pleasure of being a member of that Commission, and while our powers were to make inquiry into the conditions under which this law was being operated, my friend is mistaken when he says that that commission had any power to make recommendation.

As a member of that commission, going from one part of this State to the other, I want to state that at no time before that commission, was there any advocacy of the repeal of the Law of 1913. There was objection to some of its features being drastic. It was only, if my memory serves me correctly, which I believe it does, at a meeting that was held before the Health and Sanitation Committee of this present session that there were advocates of the repeal of this law, but the majority of the cold storage men then appearing advocated a regulation of their business, saying that they welcomed it; they did not want to repeal this act. I say to you gentlemen that we are supported in the position that we take to-night by the almost united press of this State, which recognizes that there should be regulation of this business to prevent in the future the wrong of the past. If we are to enact legislation that would remedy the condition complained of, it is certainly not by way of a repealer but by way of an amendment whereby we could remove any and every objectionable feature, if any objectionable feature there may be, in the act of 1913. My friend from Philadelphia does not for a moment claim to be the author of the bill that is on the statute books now. He was simply a member of a subcommittee composed of Mr. Roney, Mr. W. H. Wilson, Mr. Gans, myself and another member of the last session and after taking the Dunn Bill and the Gans Bill and the Wiltbank Bill that were introduced at that session and considering them the present act was framed and was presented and referred to the Committee on Health and Sanitation which, in concrete form, is the result of the labors of that sub-committee. I want to say to you gentlemen of the House that you must know that this business deserves a regulation to prevent imposition that has been practiced on the public heretofore. If we are to enact legislation that would be beneficial to all interests and to the community at large it is certainly not by way of repealer but by way of amending our present law. I ask you members of this House not to lend yourselves or make yourselves a party to a total repeal that will leave conditions in 1915 as they were prior to the enactment of the legislation on this question before 1913.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, yes sir.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether he is familiar with the provisions of the present Cold Storage Law?

Mr REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, yes sir, I am.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman to say where he gets the information that outside states can ship into Pennsylvania and sell cold storage goods irrespective of the time that they have been in cold storage.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, they do it.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman to answer my question.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I answer and say they are doing it.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I refer to Section 18 of the Cold Storage Law, which reads as follows: "No food shall be sold or offered or exposed for sale in this State which shall have been placed or stored in any cold storage warehouse outside of this State unless it first shall have been marked as provided for in section 15 of this Act, provided however that no such food shall be sold or offered or exposed for sale in this State if the total length of time that such food has remained in cold storage shall exceed that specified in section 16 of this Act." The word "food" is defined in the preceding sections of the act. Mr. Speaker, the regulations and the time limits provided for in this act covers foods, as specified, outside of the State as well as in the State.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that on a matter of this importance this House ought not to go on record as favoring no regulations at all in respect to the storage of food. The cold storage is comparatively a new industry and it is growing very rapidly. It is only safe to say and it is known on good authority that to keep foods in cold storage for an interminable time makes them less healthful but any one's common sense ought to tell him that. I have read with a great deal of care and some pleasure the literature sent out by the Board of the Corn Exchange National Bank. In perusing that literature I did not find anywhere a suggestion in it that there ought to be no regulations at all. All of it was aimed at the modification of the present and existing law and if the Senate, as everybody agrees, has modified this law, the sensible thing to do, in my opinion, is to wait until that law comes over and then consider it and not throw open the bars and put this question down where it was prior to 1913. The fact that other states don't regulate their food products simply shows that they are not looking after the health interests of the people, therefore the work in this respect in other states is not equal to the work that is done in Pennsylvania. It seems to me that under the Act of 1913 the bill which was passed was an advance in our laws and this bill it seems to me ought to be voted down. There has been no suffering as far as any one in this House has been able to tell or from the literature that has been supplied, by any particular class. The demand seems to come from those who are engaged in the cold storage business. I sincerely hope that this House will vote this bill down.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, The present law governing the cold storage business is practically closing up our cold storage plants here, and opening up those of other States; allowing them a privilege which is denied us; in other words, we can store goods the same day they do in Illinois, yet we must sell ours as cold storage products, while they can ship theirs into our State as chilled and sell on our market as fresh, for instance, butter stored in this State must be sold as storage products and must be stamped as such, while other States storing theirs at the same time can ship theirs here and sell as fresh butter. I will say the same of eggs. I will go even farther, eggs can be imported from China one year old and sold as fresh in Pennsylvania. A beef can be stored in other States and imported beef from Argentina can be shipped here as chilled and sold as fresh and it may be from one to four years old, while we have but four months to store and then it must be sold as cold storage products.

I will also include poultry which comes on our market as chilled and the inspectors permit it to be sold as fresh, when it may have been in storage beyond the time limit for poultry according to our laws And now the purpose of this law was to protect the people, but you can readily see it fails to do it. It simply kills the storage business in our State and prevents the average business man from storing his goods here and opens a greater opportunity for the meat trust and cold storage interests in our great West, giving them a greater grip on both producer and consumer practically wiping out the storage interests in this State and giving other the advantage of our markets which means they can pay the farmer what they see fit and charge the consumer what they please. The big meat trust not only controls the storage house outside our State but those of other countries shipping goods here.

As I said beforee, Agrentina Beef and eggs from China are controlled by this trust. This law is undoubtedly in the interests of the worst trust we have to contend with in the U. S., namely the meat trust. Now while the average business man and the consumer has no protection whatever. At the last session of the Legislature, a Commission was appointed to investigate the cold storage and after two years careful study, they recommended in their report published in the Journal of April 1, that this bill be repealed until such time as the national passes a uniform bill for all States so that all States will be on equal footing with this State congress.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I have no material interest in the repeal of this bill other than from the viewpoint of a citizen of the Commonwealth and a legislator of this State. I believe that it is the opinion of 206 other men here without the question of a doubt that we have sat here year after year and session after session endeavorin to regulate industry, or railroad corporations, manufacturing establishments, refrigerator plants and what not? It is the concensus of the opinion that it is time for us to have a session not for the enactment of new laws but to repeal those that are on our statute books which are doing harm and that are not in the interest of the welfare of our State. The gentleman from Philadelphia tells us that this was the most unfair bill presented before the members of this session. In his opinion he may be right; in my opinion I disagree with him. Only a week ago last Monday, this House, in its wisdom, saw fit to repeal from the statute books the so-called Full Crew Bill which was argued pro and con that it was for the welfare of our State but it was argued that it was not for the benefit of this State and that it was in the interests of a corporation whose business it was to so argue. That corporation most interested was the Pennsylvania railroad and its allied lines and on that argument you men saw fit to repeal that act. I am of the opinion and I have not yet seen it proven to my satisfaction that this law protects the people of this State against the importation of undesirable food commodities. I have seen letters that were written by the managers of refrigerator plants in sister states asking the men who are handling food commodities to have them brought into their state, coaxing them, begging them to take from this grand State of ours a business that helps vitally to bring revenue into this State. The government in its report says that only eight per cent. of the egg production in the United States are put into a cold storage plant. Just think of it; eight per cent is all of the eggs of this country that ever get into cold storage warehouse. Then why all this legislation? Why should we cause these men who have millions and millions of dollars invested in these refrigerating plants who practically would have to close their doors simply because we in the session of 1913, of which I must apologize I was a member and because we did not stop to consider that House a Progressive House, anything that looked like something new was like a "will-o-the-wisp," went through here like a shot out of a cannon, passed the Senate and was signed by the Governor. This year, this House saw fit to repeal many of those bills, even the one which is taking revenue away from the State, with the result that the Chairman of the present Appropriation Committee saw fit that this bill be repealed, that the State needed the revenue worse than the counties did. I have no doubt and I hope that when that bill comes before this House, it will pass it because we need it. I maintain that this does not correct the evil which it was intended to correct. The people in Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, New York and even from foreign countries, as the gentleman from Delaware, said, are receiving goods from China, beef from Argentine, condensed milk from Holland, but in this our glorious state, the people who are advocating the industry of the refrigerating plants have to suffer. The City of Erie the largest fresh fish port in the world, has got to suffer by this drastic legislation, and if we saw fit in our wisdom, to repeal one law against one corporation, why have we not got the same prerogative to repeal the other one if it is wrong, and take it off our Statute book. I agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia, that we should have a regulation, a modest one, but not one that is going to force everybody out of business; and if as the gentleman from Philadelphia stated in his interrogation of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Reynolds, these breaches do not occur, and asked him for his burden of proof, then I think that the burden of proof rests upon the Commissioner of the Food and Dairy Department in not prosecuting the men who are shipping goods into this State if the law prevents it, it is to him that we look for protection and it is his duty to give it to us. I am of the opinion that this bill should be repealed, and I ask you to vote aye.

Mr. LIPSCHUTZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise here with temerity after hearing the intellectual giant from Philadelphia, but I could not sit here quietly and listen to some of the ridiculous arguments that I heard here to-night. You cannot blow hot and cold with the same breath. My friend from Pittsburgh talks about prosecuting and with the next of protecting under the law, and then asks you to repeal. I had the pleasure before I came here to be interviewed by a gentleman who is a director in this Corn Exchange National Bank and who is also a stockholder in this cold storage plant. He took advantage of the many years friendship I had with his family. He knew that I was a novitiate here in this Assembly. The longer he tarried, the more satisfied I was that he was actuated solely by selfish interests. My friend from Pittsburgh said that you would throw many men out of business. I said to him, "Isn't it a fact that your bank aids these people in the cold storage business." and he said "yes." I said, "Can you name me one instance where a man has failed in your line of business, or has failed to make good with this bank?" He said, "I cannot." He also said to me, "When your wife goes and buys cold storage eggs, she does not want to know how long those eggs were in storage.' He said that on the principle of "what you don't know, won't hurt you." But I, for one, that is going to consume that cold storage egg, would like to know how long that egg was in storage. I want to say, Mr. Speaker, the issue here is, the cold storage plant on the one side and the consumer of the Commonwealth on the other. We have heard here the word "drastic." Don't be deceived by that term. The uninitiated may swallow that term, but wherein have we been shown that this measure of 1913 is a drastic measure? What do they want? They want this bill repealed so that they can go on for two years. And what will be the result? They say that our Food and Dairy Commissioner will regulate this, but they do not tell you that this Food and Dairy Commissioner has no regard for the consumer. He has not lifted one hand to aid the consumer.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER announced that the Chief Clerk having reported the following bills has passed both Houses of the General Assembly, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read, as follows:

Senate Bill No. 430.

An Act relative to the holding of magistrates courts in Philadelphia.

Senate Bill No. 507.

An Act authorizing John E. Joos a resident of the City of Pittsburgh Allegheny county Pennsylvania to bring suit in the court of common pleas of Dauphin county against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. DAVIS offered the following motion which was twice read and considered:

Moved by Mr. Davis, seconded by Mr. Williams, that the vote by which House Bill No. 1094, File Folio 5383, entitled:

An Act authorizing the depositing of county funds at interest and regulating the manner of selecting such depositories and making such deposits on page four of to-day's calendar, was defeated on final passage, be reconsidered for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Chair declared the "noes" appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for and fifty-four voting in the affirmative and fifty-one in the negative the question was determined in the affimative and the motion agreed to.

Mr. LOVE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. LOVE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

Amend section 2, line 11, by striking out the words "such funds" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "each respective fund"

Amend section 2, line 23, by striking out the word "money" and insert in lieu thereof, the word, "bond"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there an objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Flynn and Mr. Trach.

Mr. GLENN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. The motion asking for the yeas and nays is the only question in order.

The yeas and nays were as follows:

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. KUHN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ascertain why the objections were offered to that vote and would like to interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state that the gentleman has a perfect right to offer objection, insomuch as the gentleman from Franklin notified the House that he was not in the House when his name was called. Under the rules all members must be within the bar of the House when their names are called.

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the bill as amended was agreed to on third reading.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. ADAMS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:55 o'clock P. M.) the House adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

VOL. 3. HARRISBURG, PA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1915. No. 50.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, April 28, 1915.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor, Frank B. McClain) in the Chair.

The Chaplain (Rev. Thomas W. Davis) offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this charming and beautiful morning, for the great opportunities of life and for its corresponding responsibilities. So guide us from day to day that me may look after our physical, mental, moral and religious condition, and so guide our lives that we may remember these laws, that whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap. Grant that we may live from day to day so as to bring out from ourselves the largest and best possibilities for our own growth and for the helpfulness that we can give to our fellowmen. We ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. GYGER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

An Act relating to practice in the courts of common pleas in actions of assumpsit and trespass except actions for libel and slander prescribing the pleadings and procedure to be observed therein and giving the courts power to enforce its provisions.

Mr. TOMPKINS from the Committee on Judiciary General reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 660, entitled:

An Act amending the first paragraph of the fourth section of the act approved the 28th day of April, 1899, entitled "An Act to provide for the classification of the townships of the Commonwealth with respect to their population into two classes, and to prescribe the form of government for townships of each class.

Mr. MAGEE from the Committee on Judiciary General reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 658, entitled:

An Act relating to the guardianship of minor children; making father and mother joint guardians of minor children; providing for the custody of the person and estate of minor children upon the death of either parent, and giving father and mother equal rights in the appointment of testamentary guardians.

Also from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1036 (House Bill No. 1334), entitled:

An Act providing for the creation and regulation of municipal liens and the proceedings for the collection thereof in the several boroughs of this Commonwealth.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING AND DIRECTING THE ATTORNEY GENERAL, AUDITOR GENERAL AND STATE TREASURER, FOR AND IN BEHALF OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA TO COMPROMISE AND SETTLE ALL AND CERTAIN THAT LITIGATION PENDING IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF BEAVER COUNTY AT NO. 275 OF JUNE TERM, 1910, WHEREIN THE HARMONY SOCIETY ET AL ARE DEFENDANTS, TOGETHER WITH ANY AND ALL CLAIMS HOWSOEVER AFFECTING THE PROPERTY AND ASSETS LATE OF SAID SOCIETY.

Mr. CROW (at the request of Mr. Sproul), offered the fololwing resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Finance.

In the Senate, April 28, 1915.

Whereas, at No. 275 of June Term, 1910, the Court of Common Pleas of Beaver county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, did, on the suggestion of the Commonwealth at the relation of the then Attorney General, Honorable M. Hampton Todd, issue its writs of quo warranto directed to the late religious society known as the Harmony Society, Susie C. Duss, its last elected trustee, John S. Duss, de facto trustee, and the said Susie C. Duss, John S. Duss and Franz Gillman, individually, and did cause said writ to be served on the Beaver County Land Company, the Liberty Land Company and the Commonwealth Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Trustee;

And Whereas, answers have been filed by several of the said defendents and a replication has been filed by the Commonwealth;

And Whereas, by the said pleadings it appears that it is alleged by the Commonwealth that the said Harmony Society was a religious society organized in the year 1805, and which acquired property in Beaver county in the years 1824 and 1825 and at other times thereafter, which property was held for religious uses; and that said society at different times conveyed its real property to The Union Company, the Beaver County Land Company and thousands of different persons, and that said real property was situate not only in Beaver county but in Allegheny county, Butler county and Warren county and other counties of this Commonwealth; that the said The Union Company had conveyed some twenty-five hundred acres of land formerly occupied by said society to the Liberty Land Company in consideration of the delivery of twenty-five hundred Liberty Land Company's Purchase Money Mortgage Bonds, of the par value of $1,000.00 each, that the said society had been dissolved and ceased to exist, and that its assets had been in fact illegally distributed among the members of said society and others, and that of right all the property of said society real or personal, on its dissolution or ceasing to exist had vested in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania;

And Whereas, it was alleged by certain of the defendents that said society was not a religoius society but a trading or business association and did not hold any of its property, real or personal, for religious or charitable uses or purposes; and that its members had at any time the right to dissolve the said society and divide the effects among themselves, and that they had so done;

And Whereas, it appears that the pendency of the said litigation directly or indirectly affects or has tendency to cast a cloud on many titles to real estate in Beaver county and other counties of this Commonwealth wherever said society at any time since 1805 owned and conveyed real property, and said litigation has a tendency to embarass thousands of owners of small homes in mortgaging or conveying the same;

And Whereas, it appears that of the purchase money bonds of said Liberty Land Company issued as aforesaid, only ten hundred and seventy-six (1076) remain outstanding, the residue having been cancelled or retired; and that of the said outstanding bonds one hundred and ninety-two (192) are owned by innocent third parties, at no time members of said society, and that except as to sixty-seven (67) of said bonds, former members of said society have pledged all of said bonds owned by them to secure certain indebtedness of themselves or of said society, aggregating two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000.00) dollars, and that the interest coupons on said bonds have not been paid for the past six years;

And, Whereas, It appears that the stock of said Beaver County Land Company is owned by former members of said society except as to some two (2) shares thereof, and that said stock has been pledged to secure said indebtedness of two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000.00) dollars, or a portion thereof, and that said Beaver County Land Company is seized in fee, as appears by the recorded instruments, of about five acres, more or less, of land situate in the former village of Economy, Pennsylvania, now the Borough of Ambridge, Beaver county, Pennsylvania, and also of certain scattered lots located in the City of Beaver Falls and the adjacent territory in Beaver county, Pennsylvania, the whole of which is real estate of said Beaver County Land Company and assessed in 1915, for the purpose of local taxation at an amount not exceeding Ninety-seven thousand two hundred and forty-four ($97,244.00) dollars; and that said corporation owes debts exceeding one hundred seventy thousand ($170,000.00) dollars;

And, Whereas, counsel representing the Commonwealth and the defendants, after many conferences and consideration of the matter involved, have agreed upon terms of settlement and compromise of said litigation in nowise prejudicing the positions assumed by the defendants in said pleading and not intended by them to recognize or admit any right of the Commonwealth, but only to put an end to protracted litigation and quiet title to real and personal property wherever situate that was at any time held by or for said society. By said agreement it is proposed to convey in fee simple absolutely to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania those two certain parcels of land both situate in the Fourth Ward of the Borough of Ambridge, County of Beaver, and Commonwealth aforesaid, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

(1)—All that certain parcel commonly known as the "Great House Block," bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the northeast corner of the within-described parcel (said corner being a point formed by the intersection of the south line of Fourteenth Street with the west line of Church Street); thence along the west line of Church Street S. O. degrees, 29 degrees East, Three hundred and ninety-seven hundredths (300.97) feet to a point at the corner of Church and Thirteenth Streets; thence along the north line of Thirteenth Street S. 88 degrees 54 degrees West, Three hundred ninety-eight and eighty-five hundredths (398.85) feet to a point at the corner of Thirteenth Street and Ohioview Avenue; thence along the east line of Ohioview Avenue, N. degrees, 41 minutes 38 seconds W., Three hundred one and ninety-three hundredths (301.93) feet to a point at the corner of Ohioview Avenue; thence along the south line of Fourteenth Street N. 89 degrees 02 minutes 30 seconds E., Three hundred ninety-nine and ninety-six hundredths (399.96) feet to a point at the place of beginning.

(2)—All that certain parcel, being part of the block commonly known as the "Music Hall" block, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the southwest corner of said block, being the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly line of Fourteenth Street with the easterly line of Ohioview Avenue; thence by said northerly line of Fourteenth Street N. 8 degrees 02 minutes 30 seconds E., Four hundred and eighteenth hundredths (400.18) feet to a point at corner of Church and Fourteenth Streets; thence by Church cellars and buildings connected therewith of the said society, in which have been stored certain furnishings and supplies that were of said society, which said buildings on said portion, the possession of which is intended to be reserved for the said period, are erected upon all that certain parcel, piece or lot of land in the Fourth Ward of the Borough of Ambridge, being part of the block commonly known as the "Music Hall" Block, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the southeast corner of the within described parcel—(said corner being a point formed by the intersection of the west line of Church Street with the north line of Fourteenth Street); thence along the north line of Fourteenth Street S. 89 degrees 02′ 30″ W. two hundred forty (240) feet to a point; thence at right angles to Fourteenth Street, N. 0 degrees 57″ 30″ W., one hundred eighty-four (184) feet to a point; thence N. 89 degrees 06′ 30″ E., two hundred forty-one and fifty-one hundredths (241.51) feet to a point in the west line of Church Street; thence by said west line S., 0 degrees 29′ E., one hundred eighty-three and seventy-one hundredths (183.71) feet to a point, at the place of beginning.

And by said agreement it is further proposed to pay to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the sum of fifteen thousand ($15,000.00) dollars cash forthwith upon the conclusion of the proposed settlement and the entry of the judgment and order or decree hereinafter mentioned, and to pay the record costs of said proceeding.

And Whereas, In the opinion of the Attorney General, the Auditor General, the State Treasurer, and of the Counsel for the Commonwealth in said litigation, it is for the best interest of the Commonwealth, both in its corporate capacity and as custodian of the welfare of its citizens, that said settlement should be made and that the title to all of said real and personal property that was of said society should be quieted and settled insofar as relates to the said claim of the Commonwealth;

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Attorney General, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer be and they are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to make said settlement and compromise in the name and on behalf of the Commonwealth, and to receive for the Commonwealth the deed for said described property with the reservation of possession as aforesaid as to a portion thereof; and to receive for the Commonwealth the said sum of money; and thereupon there is hereby released to the said defendants, or parties upon which said writ was served, and to each and every of them, their heirs, grantees and assigns, all the real and personal property that was of the Harmony Society, at any time, and not included in the property conveyed to the Commonwealth under the terms of such settlement, and the said Attorney General, Auditor General and State Treasurer are authorized to apply to the court of common pleas of Beaver county to have entered in said litigation such judgment, order and decree as will effectually conclude all litigation, and forever extinguish any and all title or claim which might or could be asserted by or through the Commonwealth, except tax claims, if any, against all the property, real or personal, of said society held by the parties to said suit or served with said writ or by any person holding, through or under them, or said society.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL NO. 245.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 245, as follows:

To the members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives, for the purpose of considering Senate Bill No. 245, entitled "An Act to amend an act, entitled 'An Act authorizing appeals from assessments of taxes in this Commonwealth to the courts of common pleas, approved the nineteenth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, by giving the right to an appeal to other property owners and to the city, borough, county, township, school, district or other public corporations entitled to levy and collect taxes on the assessment complained of," beg leave to submit the following amended bill as our report:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 826 (House No. 760), entitled:

An Act providing for the alteration of the boundaries of counties in certain cases and for the adjustment of the indebtednss thereof

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. W. W. SMITH. Mr. President, as a matter of information for the members of the Senate, I desire to say that this bill is framed particularly to take care of a very small portion at the southeastern end of Montgomery County, a territory of two hundred acres, and which only concerns twenty-five residents. These voters are isolated from Cheltenham Township and have to travel about a mile and three-quarters to their polling place. It will not be authenticated until approved by the courts of Montgomery County and I would like to have an affirmative vote.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 886.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President. I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 774 (House Bill No. 886) on page 4 of today's calendar, entitled:

An Act amending an act entitled "An Act applicable to all counties of this Commonwealth to provide monthly payments as approved by the trustees to indigent widowed or abandoned mothers for partial support of their children in their own homes The manner of appointment of the trustees the administration of the trust amount of appropriations proportioning appropriations co-ordinate appropriations amounts to be paid form of records eligibility penalties and reports as set forth" approved April twenty-ninth one thousand nine hundred and thirteen by limiting the provisions of said act to women whose husbands are dead or permanently insane and who have children under sixteen years of age and providing for uniformity of administration by the appointment of the State Supervisor over the Boards of Trustees of different counties and otherwise amending the provisions of said act passed finally.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I voted aye.

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I voted aye.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would like to have an explanation as to why the motion is made for a reconsideration of the vote. The bill has been in the House for the last four months and in this Senate for the last two weeks and I would like to know the reason for this motion to reconsider the vote.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the reason is this: This bill carries with it an appropriation of eight hundred thousand dollars. It has never been in the Appropriation Committee of the House or the Appropriation Committee of the Senate. I had been watching for it for a long time, but the title does no contain any reference to an appropriation. When the bill was called I went to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Patton, and asked him if it carried an appropriation and he stated that it did not. Upon looking at it I find that it does and I therefore have made this motion to reconsider in order that I might follow that up by a motion to recommit to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, I am satisfied.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

D. 1909.

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR HOUSE BILL NO. 1180.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 27, 1915.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 1180, entitled "An Act to prohibit in cities of the second class the construction or erection of public or community vaults crypts or mausoleums (that is to say vaults crypts mausoleums or parts of mausoleums intended for sale to the public) for the interment of human bodies where the building containing such vaults crypts or mausoleums is wholly or partially above the surface of the ground" be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I would like to know what the object is of recalling this bill from the Governor. This bill has been twice before the Senate and was passed on last Monday night. I would like to know the object of this resolution, what the amendment is. This bill has been before the Senate twice and there is no reason for the bill to be recalled from the Governor. This was hashed out here on last Monday night.

The PRESIDENT. Nobody seems to be able to give the Senator from Allegheny the information he desires.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, in view of the fact that I understand that there are some typographical error in this bill, in view of these facts and for the correction of the same, I will not offer any objection to this resolution.

IV If the petition be for grading only and is signed by a majority in number and interest of the owners of property abutting the line of the proposed improvement a majority of owners of undivided interest in any one piece of property to be deemed as one person then the whole cost or any part thereof may be collected and the council in making the assessment may provide for an equitable reduction not exceeding one-third from the frontage of all lots at street or other intersections where for any equitable cause an assessment for the full frontage would be unjust

V If any street is graded curbed paved or macadamized without a petition as provided in this section then two-thirds of the cost may be collected

Section 10 Whenever an ordinance is passed for any of the purposes authorized by the preceding section pursuant to a petition therefor ten days notice shall be given by hand-bills posted in conspicuous places along the line of the proposed improvement The notice shall state the fact and date of the passage of the ordinance that the petition for the improvement was signed by a majority of free-holders in interest and number or by the owners of property representing two-thirds or four-fifths in the number of feet abutting the line of the proposed improvement as the case may be and shall further state that any person interested denying that the petition was so signed may appeal to the court of common pleas of the county within thirty days from the passage of the ordinance

Section 11 Any person interested may within thirty days from the passage of the ordinance present a petition to the court of common pleas of the county whereupon the court shall determine whether said improvement was petitioned for by the requisite majority two-thirds or four-fifths as the case may be If the court shall find that it was not so petitioned for it shall quash the ordinance otherwise it shall approve the same

Section 12 If no such appeal shall be taken or if the court on the appeal shall approve the ordinance the borough may proceed with the improvement and thereafter all parties interested shall be estopped from denying the fact that the petition was properly signed

Section 13 Whnever any improvement is proposed to be made without a petition as provided in section nine of this article the ordinance authorizing and directing the improvement shall be adopted by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the whole number of council If the burgess approve such ordinance he shall sign it but if he shall not so approve he shall return it with his objections to the council at the next regular meeting thereof when said objections shall be entered upon the minutes

At the regular meeting next succeeding the return of such ordinance the council shall proceed to a reconsideration thereof and if all the members shall vote to pass such ordinance it shall then become of as full force as if it had been approved by the burgess but in such case the vote shall be determined by yeas and nays and the names and votes of the members shall be entered on the minutes If such ordinance shall not be returned by the burgess at the regular meeting next succeeding its presentation to him it shall likewise have as full force as if it had been approved

Section 14 Whenever any improvement is proposed to be made without a petition as provided in section nine of this article the ordinance authorizing such improvement shall not be adopted until twenty-eight days from the date of its introduction and in the meantime copies thereof shall be published in a newspaper circulating in the borough once a week for two weeks and five copies thereof shall be posted in conspicuous places along the proposed improvement ten days before its final passage

Section 15 All assessments made pursuant to section nine of this article shall be estimated by the council or such person as it shall designate and shall be filed with the secretary of the borough

Section 16 The secretary of the borough shall cause thirty days notice of the assessment to be given to each party assessed either by service on the owner or his agent or left on the assessed premises

Section 17 If any asessment shall remain unpaid at the expiration of the notice it shall be the duty of the borough solicitor to collect the same with interest from the time of completion of the improvement by action of assumpsit or by a lien to be filed and collected in the same manner as municipal claims When an owner has two or more lots against which there is an assessment for the same improvement all of such lots shall be embraced in one claim

(e) GRADING CURBING PAVING MACADAMIZING BOUNDARY STREETS AND STREETS OUTSIDE LIMITS

1 By agreement with municipalities and townships

Section 18 Boroughs may enter into agreements with adjoining municipalities and townships for the grading curbing paving or macadamizing of streets and alleys which may be boundaries between such boroughs and municipalities or townships and may provide in such contract that the damages costs and expenses of such improvement shall be divided between such boroughs and municipalities or townships in the proportion agreed upon

Section 19 In grading curbing paving or macadamizing such streets or alleys boroughs shall exercise such power only upon petition of a majority of the property owners in interest and number abutting the line of the proposed improvement within the borough limits to be verified by the affidavit of at least one of the petitioners a majority in interest of owners of undivided interests in any piece of property to be treated as one person asking that such improvement be made

CHAPTER XI

BURIAL GROUNDS

ARTICLE I

Section 1 Boroughs may prohibit within their limits or within any described territory within such limits the burial or interment of deceased persons and may regulate the depth of graves

Section 2 When the title and management of any burial ground is vested in a borough the council of such borough upon petition of ten lot owners in such burial ground may transfer such burial ground and the management thereof to an incorporated cemetery company

Section 3 Upon the presentation to council of such petition the council may pass an ordinance declaring that upon the acceptance of the provisions of such ordinance by the incorporated cemetery company filed with the borough secretary the title and control of such burial ground shall vest in such incorporated cemetery companies

Section 4 The secretary of the borough shall record the acceptance of any such incorporated cemetery company in the ordinance book of the borough and a copy of the ordinance and the acceptance thereof certified by the burgess and secretary of the borough shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county

Section 5 Authority is vested in the court of quarter sessions to make such orders for the regulation of burial grounds situated in and adjacent to boroughs as the public good shall require and when any burial ground shall become so neglected as in the opinion of the court to become a public nuisance the court may direct the removal of the dead therefrom by the borough authorities to some other burial ground

Section 6 Upon the petition of any incorporated cemetery company and a majority of the taxables of any borough the court of quarter sessions may authorize the transfer of any cemetery to the authorities of any borough in which such cemetery may be located or be adjacent thereto

Section 7 Such transfer shall be made without cost to the borough and upon being made the borough authorities shall exercise the powers and privileges of such incorporated company and may purchase lands within or beyond the borough limits not to exceed thirty acres for the extension of such cemetery and may raise the means to pay for the same by the sale of lots or otherwise but in no event by taxation they may lay out lots so purchased and alter the original plot of such cemetery and may dispose of such grounds in the same manner as such incorporated company could have done

Section 8 A deed for any lot made by the burgess shall be of the same validity as the deed of such incorporated cemetery company and the burgess is authorized to make deeds to those who theretofore purchased lots but have not been furnished with deeds by the cemetery company

Section 9 In altering the plot of any such cemetery the bodies may be removed and reinterred in a suitable place but without cost to surviving relatives or friends

Section 10 Whenever any burial ground in charge of any religious society or church or in charge of no one has ceased to be used for interments or has become so neglected as to become a public nuisance or when such cemetery hinders the improvements and progressive interests of any borough or is desired by the borough for any free public library building or for any other public purpose the court of quarter sessions of the county upon petition of the managers of such cemetery or upon the petition of fifty residents in the vicinity in case such cemetery is not in charge of anyone setting forth that the improvements and progressive interests of such borough are hampered and the welfare of such borough is injured or upon the petition of such borough setting forth that such cemetery is desired by the borough for the erection thereon of a free public library building or for any other public purpose and after three weeks of advertisement may direct the removal of the remains of the dead from such burial ground

Section 11 No application as provided in the preceding section shall be made by the managers of any cemetery in charge of any society or church except in pursuance of the wishes of a majority of the members of such society or church expressed at a meeting held for that purpose after two weeks' public notice

Section 12 Such removal shall be made by the managers of such cemetery or by the borough when such cemetery is in charge of no one in a careful manner at the expense of the party making such removal to such other burial ground as may be selected or if so desired by relatives or friends to some cemetery in the immediate vicinity

Section 13 The parties making such removal shall publish for two successive weeks in two daily or weekly newspapers of the borough or county a notice declaring their intention to remove such remains

Section 14 Relatives and friends of such dead may remove such remains at any time during such proceedings at their own expense before removal by the managers

Section 15 All bodies when so removed shall be placed in separate caskets and graves and the markers placed by the remains of such bodies shall be taken by the persons authorized to make such removal and placed as near as can be in the same relative position as before removal

CHAPTER XII

ENFORCEMENT OF ORDINANCES—ACTIONS BY AND AGAINST BOROUGHS

ENFORCEMENT OF ORDINANCES

Section 1 Fines and penalties made payable by this act or imposed under the ordinances of any borough shall be recoverable before any justice of the peace of the borough in the same manner as debts not exceeding three hundred dollars are recoverable and when so recovered shall be forthwith paid to the treasurer of the borough

Section 2 Policemen of the several boroughs may without warrant and upon view arrest and commit for hearing any person guilty of a breach of the peace vagrancy riotous or disorderly conduct or drunkenness or that may be engaged in the commission of any unlawful act tending to imperil the personal security or endanger the property of citizens or violating any of the ordinances of such borough for the violation of which a penalty is imposed Persons so arrested shall be entitled to give bail for their appearance according to the practice in cases of summary convictions

Section 3 All proceedings for the violation of borough ordinances and for the collection of fines and penalties imposed thereby may be commenced by warrant or by summons at the discretion of the burgess or justice of the peace before whom the proceedings are commenced but no warrant shall be issued except on oath or affirmation specifying the ordinance for the violation of which the same is issued and all process may be directed to and be served by any policeman of the borough who may execute the same anywhere within the Commonwealth

Section 4 Warrants shall be returnable forthwith and upon such return like proceedings shall be had as in cases of summary conviction with the same right of appeal from any final judgment

Section 5 When any person is arrested on view a complaint on oath or affirmation shall be immediately made whereupon like proceedings shall be had as provided in the preceding section

Section 6 Any person arrested for the violation of a borough ordinance may be committed to the borough lock-up pending a hearing or trial but in case there is no suitable lock-up in which to detain prisoners the person arrested may be committed to the county jail

Section 7 Upon judgment against any person by summary conviction or by proceedings by summons on default of the payment of the fine or penalty imposed and the costs the defendant may be sentenced and committed to the borough lock-up for a period not exceeding five days or to the county jail for a period not exceeding thirty days

Section 8 No fine or penalty shall exceed one hundred dollars for any single violation of any ordinance In case the defendant has goods or property of any kind whatsoever out of which the judgment and costs can be collected by execution or other process the plaintiff in the action may elect to collect the judgment and costs by such proceedings

Section 9 When any person shall have been arrested by authority of the burgess or justice of the peace of any borough charged with being a vagrant or tramp and having refused to pay the fine imposed for such offense the burgess or justice of the peace shall have authority to commit such person to the lock-up in such borough for a term not exceeding five days or compel such person to work upon the public works or streets of the borough for period of time not exceeding one day for each dollar of fine imposed

Section 10 Any such defendant as provided in the preceding section may appeal to the court of quarter sessions upon entering into recognizance with at least one surety in double the amount of the fine and costs for his appearance in court and the offence shall be prosecuted in court as in the case of misdemeanors

Section 11 When a prisoner shall be committed to any county jail or prison either for the non-payment of a fine or penalty imposed for the violation of any borough ordinance or while awaiting a hearing upon any charge for the violation of any borough ordinance the costs of the proceedings and the expenses of maintaining such prisoner during his confinement shall be paid by the borough and the county shall not be liable to the sheriff for any maintenance or to any person for any costs in such proceedings

ARTICLE II

ACTIONS BY AND AGAINST BOROUGHS

(a) MUNICIPAL CLAIMS

Section 1 Boroughs may proceed for the recovery of municipal claims by lien or by action of assumpsit and jurisdiction is conferred upon justices of the peace to entertain such actions of assumpsit to the amount of three hundred dollars In all proceedings for the recovery of municipal claims an attorney's commission of five per centum may be included not to exceed twenty dollars

(b) DEFENCES BY TAXPAYERS

Section 2 Any taxpayer of any borough may inquire into the validity of any judgment or defend the borough in any suit or judgment upon filing a petition with the court of common pleas of the county in which such suit is pending or judgment exists accompanied by an affidavit that the taxpayer believes that injustice will be done to the borough in such suit or judgment Whenever it is deemed necessary the court may order such taxpayer to file a bond with one or more sureties to be approved by court to save harmless the borough from all costs that may accure in such proceeding subsequent to the filing of such petition

Section 3 Whenever a judgment is rendered by any justice of the peace or alderman against any borough and a right of appeal is given to such borough and for ten days immediately after the rendition of such judgment the borough officials neglect to perfect an appeal any taxpayer of such borough may take an appeal in behalf of the borough from such judgment to the court of common pleas of the county within the time prescribed for the taking of such appeal

Section 4 In taking the appeal the taxpayer shall make an affidavit that the same is not taken for the purpose of delay but because he verily believes that injustice has been done The taxpayer shall pay the costs of the appeal and enter sufficient bail for the payment of all costs before the justice of the peace or alderman and all costs in the court of common pleas

Section 5 Upon the filing of such appeal in the court of common pleas of the county the taxpayer shall be made a party to the suit and shall have the right to defend such borough therein

(c) LIABILITY IN BOND TRANSFERS

Section 6 All certificates of loans issued by a borough shall be transferable by the legal owner thereof without any liability on the part of the transfer agents of the borough to recognize or see to the execution of any trust whether expressed implied or constructive to which such loans may be subject unless such transfer agents of the borough shall have previously received notice in writing signed by or on behalf of the person for whom such loans appear by the certificate thereof to be held in trust that the proposed transfer would be a violation of such trust

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 971, as follows:

A Joint Resolution providing for a commission to investigate and report the increase in the cost of anthracite coal alleged to be due to the tax imposed thereon empowering said commission to issue subpoenas and providing for the attendance of witnesses and the penalty for failure to obey such subpoenas and making an appropriation for the cost and expense of said commission

Whereas By an act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "An Act laying a tax on anthracite coal and providing for the collection and distribution of the same" the tax of two and one-half (2 1-2) per centum was imposed upon the value when prepared for market of every ton of anthracite coal which said tax did not on the average exceed five (5) cents per ton and

Whereas The operators of the anthracite coal mines although refusing except in a few isolated instances to pay tax or any part thereof and although contesting the validity thereof in the courts and it having been stated publicly in the press of the State and not denied that they have combined either among themselves or with retail dealers to raise the price of anthracite coal and did actually raise said price twenty-five (25) cents per ton upon the pretence that the said amount was for the purpose of paying said tax therefor

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That a commission of three be appointed by the Governor to serve without compensation to investigate the cause or causes of the raise of said price of anthracite coal either by operators of anthracite mines or dealers in anthracite coal whether the same was justified or not and whether the same was done as a result of any illegal combination or confederation upon the part of the operators of anthracite coal mines or dealers in anthracite coal and investigate and report all other facts and circumstances in reference thereto said commission to report to the Governor on the first of January one thousand nine hundred and sixteen and make a further report to the Governor and to the Legislature on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and seventeen

Section 2 For the purpose of enabling said commission to carry out and perform its duties the said commission shall have the right to sit in any part of this Commonwealth and shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books papers and other evidence at the meeting of the commission and for that purpose may issue subpoenas signed by the president of the commission and cause the same to be served and executed in any court of this Commonwealth and if any witness shall refuse to testify any fact within his knowledge or to produce any books or papers within his possession or under his control the secretary of the commission shall forthwith report the facts of such refusal to the court of common pleas of the county wherein such witness resides or wherein his attendance was required and all questions arising upon such refusal shall at once be heard by said court If the court determines that the testimony or evidence required by such witness is legal and properly competent and ought to be given or produced by him then said court shall make an order commanding such witness to testify or produce books or papers or both as the case may be and if such witness shall thereafter refuse to testify or to produce books or papers as aforesaid in disobedience of such order of the court then the said court shall have power to order the commitment of such witness to the county jail of the proper county for contempt

Section 3 The said commission shall have power to employ a secretary and a stenographer and to call upon the Attorney General for such legal advice as it may require

Section 4 The sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) is hereby appropriated to the payment of the costs and expenses of said commission to be drawn upon the requisition of the chairman thereof and paid as other appropriations are now by law paid

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 610, entitled:

An Act providing for the payment by the several counties of the Commonwealth of the expenses of holding primary elections

Mr. MAGEE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, this bill was defeated on Monday night and it has been reconsidered and placed on the calendar of Bills Postponed for the Present today.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 610, entitled:

An Act providing for the payment by the several counties of the Commonwealth of the expenses of holding primary elections

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I would say that if the State is going to have money this year for prosecuting a road program and for various other meritorious projects which are before the Legislature at this time, it is very necessary that something be done either to increase the revenue, or to conserve the revenues which we have. Two years ago the State gave back to the counties all of the personal property tax, amounting to several times more than the aggregate cost of holding the primary elections. The primary elections nevertheless cost the State about eight hundred thousand dollars a year, which is divided among the counties, of course, the larger share coming from the large and populous counties. No account which the State has to settle is more troublesome, or causes more confusion in adjustment or settlement.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, April 28, 1915.

The House met at 10.00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Charles A. Ambler) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. F. W. Staley, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for the power of the human will, a will that has been consecrated and concentrated and has been planted deep into the infinite justice and righteousness and wisdom and holiness of God. Such a will a great Jewish General possessed when he said, "But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." Such a will the Patriarch had when he wrestled with the Angel of God until the break of day and said, "I will not let Thee go except Thou bless me." Such a will the Apostle had when he said "I determine not to know anything among men save Jesus Christ and Him Crucified." O God, give us such a will in the making of our life, in making history, in making a State, in making a nation and may this will be filled with blessing for our children and for our children's children. We ask for Christ's sake. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. Sampsel, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

Whereas The total cost of construction inspection engineering and advertising of the part of said road so built was the sum of fifteen thousand eight hundred fifty-four dollars and three cents ($15,854.03) and under the terms of the contract existing between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the county of Lawrence and the township of Hickory dated May first one thousand nine hundred seven the share of the same payable by the county of Lawrence and township of Hickory was the sum of three thousand nine hundred sixty-three dollars and fifty cents ($3,963.50) which was the total due from the county of Lawrence and the township of Hickory for the number of feet of the road actually constructed namely six thousand nine hundred seventy-five feet and

Whereas The county of Lawrence and the township of Hickory in order to secure the construction in the year one thousand nine hundred seven of a certain part of said road when the State Highway Department was without funds for the construction thereof paid for the use of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania the sum of six thousand seven hundred fifty-two dollars and fifty cents ($6,752.50) being its total share for the construction of said road for the length of twelve thousand five hundred feet as originally agreed upon the same having been done under agreement with the State Highway Department of Pennsylvania that said road should be completed under said contract for the said distance of twelve thousand feet and

Whereas Said road has never been completed beyond the length of six thousand nine hundred seventy-five feet and the Act of Assembly namely the act of May first one thousand nine hundred five (Pamphlet Laws three hundred eighteen) under which said contract was made has been repealed and no provisions made for the completion of said road and the said county of Lawrence and township of Hickory has therefore paid for the use of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on account of said road its full share on the original contract of twelve thousand five hundred feet therefore

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, for a question of information, I do not know whether the Chairman of the Appropriation Commitee is here yet, but I notice that in all these appropriations for hospitals the Bureau of Medical Licensure has inserted an amendment in all of them which requires the equipment of a pathological and clinical laboratory and for the maintenance of the same. I do not know whether any gentleman here or the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee can explain what the cost of this equipment is and what it will cost for the maintenance of it. That cost is a very important question for our hospitals at the present time. We know this, that we are getting the amount for maintenance for our hospitals to the very lowest limit out of the Appropriation Committee and out of that maintenance we are going to have this increased cost attached to it. It will simply cut down the amount for the patients of the hospitals, and I think before we go too far we ought to know what this costs.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest that the gentleman take the matter up with the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee.

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I do not want to see any bills passed on final passage until we come to an understanding on that.

The SPEAKER. These bills are now on second reading.

An Act making an appropriation to the State Highway Department to be used in deepening straightening widening and otherwise improving Turtle Creek so as to prevent damage and danger from floods and overflows and granting to the said State Highway Department the authority to make said improvements

Whereas Turtle Creek within the County of Allegheny was by act of assembly approved the sixteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and thirty-eight declared to be a public highway and the part or portion thereof extending from the western boundary line of Westmoreland county westwardly through Allegheny county to the mouth of said Creek at the Monogahela River into which it empties is bounded on the south by North Versailles Township and on the north by the boroughs of Wilmerding Turtle Creek East Pittsburgh and North Braddock all being densely populated districts and all the abutting property being occupied and covered throughout by railroads and manufacturing corporations as well as individual owners of property and

Whereas By reason of the devious winding and crooked course of said creek within said limits by its narrow width and insufficient banks as well as by obstructions which have found their way into the bed of said stream during the long course of years and by reason of the accumulation of silt and other substances in the bed of said stream to such an extent as to greatly interfere with and injure and destroy the efficiency of the sewage systems of the said abutting districts so much so as to endanger the public health of the citizens in the vicinity and throughout said districts and

Whereas By reason of the premises disastrous floods have occurred and recurred with great frequency particularly during the past ten years at which time said stream has overflown its banks devastating large areas within said districts and in its vicinity by which very great damage and injury have from time to time resulted and

Whereas Said public highway or stream by reason of the premises is a proper subject for State consideration to the end that the evils recited may be cured and the health and property of the citizens may be guarded and protected and

Whereas The General Assembly at the session of one thousand nine hundred thirteen appropriated for this improvement the sum of ten thousand dollars which was entirely inadequate to complete said improvement and

Whereas If an additional appropriation is not granted the moneys heretofore spent on the improvement will in large measure be wasted and the situation will remain practically as it was before therefore

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated for the purpose of deepening straightening widening and otherwise improving Turtle Creek at such points as the said highway department deems most necessary for the protection of the State Highway and the health of the public also including if found necessary the construction of retaining walls dredging and the removal of obstructions from the bed of said creek

Section 2 The said highway department is authorized directed and empowered to make the improvements provided for in section one of this act either with or without co-operation and assistance from the abutting and adjacent owners of property along and near to said creek to prepare plans and specifications therefor and let contract or contracts therefor

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.
